Five Michigan Cities Included In Schedule Of Stevenson Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)

Michigan Democrats pushed their state campaigns into the background today to make preparations for next week's visit by the party's presidential nominee, Adlai Stevenson.

The Illinois governor will fly to Saginaw from Springfield, Ill., Oct. 7 to launch a five city tour of Michigan.

Stevenson will speak in Saginaw at noon and fly to Detroit's Willow Run Airport immediately afterwards.

Introduction By Moody

The motorcade will proceed next to Wayne for an address at the Gar Wood plant.

Following a stop in Ecorse, Stevenson will motor to Detroit for a major speech Tuesday night at Masonic Temple. The speech will be carried over a national radio and TV network CBS from 10:30 to 11:30 p. m. EST.

Michigan's Senator Blair Moody will introduce the candidate at Saginaw and Gov. Williams will present Stevenson to his Detroit audience.

State Democrats will greet another party leader before Stevenson's arrival.

Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois will speak in Detroit Sunday night.

The Illinois senator's appearance will be sponsored by the "Volunteers for Stevenson," a Democratic-Independent organization, operating separately from

Candidates Woo Minnesota Vote

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Making same-day appearances in Minnesota for the second time in 30 days, Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. Adlai Stevenson today renewed their verbal battle for Minnesota's 11 electoral votes in the presidential race.

Eisenhower was to lead off the Republican assault with a 9 a. m. CST. appearance in the Civic Center at Duluth, where he was arriving by train. From there, the general and his party were flying to St. Cloud.

Stevenson makes a major talk for the Democrats at 9 p. m. at the St. Paul Auditorium.

The Illinois governor was to arrive at Twin Cities Metropolitan Airport at 4:45 p. m. and head a motorcade to Minneapolis for a dinner appearance.

The two candidates made their previous same-day vote appeals in Minnesota Sept. 6 at the national plowing contest near Kasson.

Taft And Eisenhower Have Same Platform, Democrats Are Told

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) told a Democratic rally Friday night that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's "surrender to Sen. Taft has been complete and becomes more pronounced with every day."

The Illinois senator said "Eisenhower meekly signed on the dotted line and agreed that he thought just like Sen. Taft on domestic issues and that there were only differences of degree between them on matters of foreign policy."

Douglas said he had a "personal affection" for the Republican presidential candidate even though the general "got into bad company."

Soviet Congress Starts Sunday

MOSCOW (AP)—More than a thousand delegates to the 19th Soviet Communist party congress were housed in Moscow hotels today, ready for the official opening ceremonies of the gathering that is expected to disclose new trends in Communist policy.

Moscow newspapers announced that the congress would convene at 7 p. m. (11 a. m. EST) tomorrow night in the big hall of the Kremlin. This is the hall where the Supreme Soviet of the USSR holds its meetings.

In a lead editorial hailing the congress, the Communist party newspaper Pravda said:

"Before the 19th congress of the Communist party of the Soviet Union the Soviet people with pride views the path traveled under the leadership of the party of Lenin and Stalin."

"Occupied with peaceful, creative labor, the Soviet people are successfully bringing to life the program of Communist construction."

Bank On Democrats, Farmers Advised By Nominee Stevenson

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
FORT DODGE, Iowa (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson stacked the Democratic farm record today alongside what he said is a GOP "record of obstruction" and told the nation's farmers:

"You'd better be careful what you do on election day."

No New Promises

The Democratic presidential nominee picked this town in the heart of the corn belt for his second major farm speech of the campaign—a speech that laid down no new Democratic promises to the people who till the land.

Instead, Stevenson cracked down on the Republican farm record and his Republican rival, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"I don't believe," he said in his prepared text, "America will entrust its future to the masters of a house divided against itself on foreign policy, on domestic policy and perhaps most of all on farm policy."

Taking Bad Advice

The Illinois governor pounded at Eisenhower as having admitted being "at sea" on farm problems and then taking bad advice on them.

He said in effect that the GOP has no farm policy of its own—only a copy of the Democratic

Ex-Convict Nabbed In South Bend, Ind., $55,000 Bank Robbery

NILES (AP)—The FBI and police today covered up their next moves in trying to track down the gang that robbed a South Bend, Ind., bank of $55,000 Sept. 19.

Held under bonds totaling $65,000 was Lawrence A. Trumbly, 22, Chicago ex-convict seized in a police trap Sept. 30 which uncovered a road culvert arsenal.

Trumbly's arrest had been kept secret and was disclosed only yesterday when the charge was brought against him.

The bank robbery charge was brought after Trumbly had surprised the court by promptly offering to put up a $12,000 bond on a liquor hijacking charge and then another $3,000 on a draft evasion charge.

platform. But it does have, he said, a "me-too" candidate running on a "yes-but" platform, advised by a "has-been" staff.

Fort Dodge was a mid-day speaking stop between major campaign addresses last night at Columbus, Ohio, and tonight at St. Paul, Minn.

Stevenson spent Friday on his first campaign swing into Ohio. He devoted the day to ripping into GOP Sen. Robert A. Taft on Taft's

Increase Asked For Ore Hauling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government hopes to reach a decision on an application of Great Lakes carriers for an increase in the ceiling price for hauling iron ore.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) now is compiling figures on earnings of the 27 contract carriers involved. They operate 275 vessels.

The Ore Carriers Industry Advisory Committee told OPS in September that they need a 10 cents a ton increase on top of the $1.45 per ton rate now in effect.

They claimed increased operating costs had mounted and impaired their earnings.

The carriers said that in order to help speed production of steel and make up for losses during the summer steel strike, they have been asked to continue hauling ore this winter.

They claimed that winter operations would necessitate use of ice-breakers and handling of frozen ore, which would make operations more expensive and difficult.

Tough Guy Robinson Takes Cantor's Place

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One of the movies' tough guys, Edward G. Robinson, leaves for the East tonight to replace Eddie Cantor in the Bonds for Israel campaign. He will visit Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland rallies.

Meanwhile, Cantor continues to improve at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, where he has been confined since a heart attack last week following his first TV show of the season.

U. S. To Hit Back At Russia For Ousting Ambassador

Stevenson Talk Picked Apart By Taft In Columbus

By KEN DAVIS

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft, spearhead of a three-man Republican campaign squad, ripped into a speech by Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, even as it was being delivered a few blocks away last night.

The impromptu rebuttal added a crowning touch to an unusual situation where top speakers of both parties appeared in major speeches simultaneously in the same city.

Text Tossed Away

Sen. Taft, scheduled for a major critique on foreign policy at the annual fall conference of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's Organizations, tossed most of his prepared text away in favor of an attack on Gov. Stevenson's speech. The Democratic candidate spoke at Memorial Hall.

But foreign policy received attention from Sen. William F. Knowland of California and Sen. John W. Bricker of Ohio, both of whom preceded Sen. Taft on the lengthy program.

Sen. Taft retained some of his original foreign policy material, saying the election of Gov. Stevenson would mean "a continuation of the wavering, unstable, pro-Com-

Republicans Put Out 'Truth Trio'

SEATTLE (AP)—Hot on the Truman trail, the Republican "truth" trio hit the Pacific Northwest yesterday with vigorous denunciation of remarks made here some 24 hours earlier by the President.

The group of Republican senators who call themselves the "truth squad" were Bourke Hickel of Iowa, Homer Ferguson of Michigan and Francis Case of South Dakota.

They tarried in this country only a short while, delivering a series of speeches and holding press conferences, then flew to San Francisco to be "with" the President while he carries on his cross-country campaign speaking today.

In Spokane, they said it was a Democrat—Paul Douglas of Illinois—who wanted to cut the appropriations for Hungry Horse Dam in Montana instead of the Republicans. Mr. Truman had said the Republicans were opposed to power development.

Sen. Hickenlooper said the Truman administration "broke up the military after the war and scuttled the preparedness program passed by the Republican 80th Congress."

In Wenatchee, in Central Washington, and here, they said the President must have changed his mind about Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee. Mr. Truman has been attacking the general regularly in major speeches and whistle stops on his trip.

"Just a year ago," Sen. Ferguson said, "when he (Truman) was wooing Ike on the hope that he might condescend to run for president on the Democratic ticket, Mr. Truman couldn't say enough nice things about the general."

Administration In Fog On Communist Threat, Eisenhower Declares

By DON WHITEHEAD

ABOARD THE EISENHOWER SPECIAL (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower moved his presidential campaign westward today, leaving in his trail a scalding indictment of an administration he said was "confused by the opiate" of Communist deceit.

Speaking in the 14,000-seat Milwaukee arena last night—to a house that was about two-thirds full—the GOP presidential nominee described efforts to minimize the Communist infiltration into government as "criminal folly."

We've Had Enough

And then he asserted—at least by implication—that President Truman and Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson had tried to dismiss the Communists-in-government problem lightly. "We have all had enough," Eisenhower said, "of those who have sneered at the warnings of men trying to drive Communists from high places—but who themselves never had the sense or the stamina to take after the Communists themselves."

With this speech, Eisenhower supported the position of Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin that disloyalty and subversion still are grave threats to the nation's security. Then he headed for Minnesota and North Dakota.

McCarthy Cheered

McCarthy spoke to the crowd shortly before Eisenhower began his speech—and touched off a roar of cheering, punctuated by some boos.

He asserted: "As long as I represent the people of Wisconsin I will call them as I see them—no matter who happens to be president."

He called Eisenhower a man who would "make a great president—an outstanding president." He said with a grin that he had talked with the GOP candidate but "I can't report we agree entirely"

Allies Recapture Bloody Big Nori

By STAN CARTER

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The U. S. Fifth Air Force said U. N. jet pilots blasted a North Korean coal mine into flaming ruin and downed two more Red MIG15s today. On the ground Allied infantrymen recaptured three Western Front outposts hills, including blood-soaked "Big Nori."

Sabre pilots reported shooting down the MIGs and damaging five others as they protected F84 Thunderjets bombing the coal mine, northwest of Kunu and near the Chongchon River.

The Sabre pilots' victories raised the Fifth Air Force's October bag of MIGs to six destroyed and 12 damaged.

The Air Force said the Thunderjets left at least five buildings in flames at the coal mine.

The Far East Air Force reported today that the big Superfort raid on the sprawling Namsan chemical plant in North Korea Oct. 1 rendered it "completely unoperational."

Forty-eight B29s hammered the plant—on the south bank of the Yalu River—with 425 tons of bombs in a 2½ hour attack.

Cancer Victim, 13, Has Full Life 2 Months Longer Than Expected

CHELSEA, Okla. (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Bobby Shaw died late today, but not before the little cancer victim lived life to the fullest two months after doctors predicted he would die.

Medical experts last June told Bobby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shaw, their son would probably lapse into a fatal coma within three weeks.

The youngster never learned he was doomed and his mother successfully kept the news from him.

Nation-wide publicity brought Bobby hundreds of gifts and made him scores of new friends. His most prized possession, he had revealed, was an autographed baseball from the New York Giants.

Truman Has Nothing To Say On Old Joe

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Four years ago, campaigning President Truman told a train whistle stop audience here:

"I like old Joe Stalin, but he is a prisoner of the Politburo."

Yesterday when his train passed through here in the post-midnight hours, the President was asleep.

A question was relayed to him later through a press secretary as to whether he still liked "old Joe."

"No comment," was the relayed reply.

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP)—The Dirkzwager Shipping Agency reported today that the Spanish steamer Monte Facho was sunk in a fog-bound collision with the British steamer Grandford off the west coast of Spain.

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—Little Johnny Dyson was well pleased with the assistant on his newspaper route yesterday.

In fact, he would have let his great-uncle, Vice President Alben Barkley, carry the entire route, not just one block.

When Barkley started out, a news bag slung over one shoulder, he spied several photographers among the crowd that lined the street.

"What are you doing here?" he kidded. "Can't a man have any privacy? The Republicans have accused us of tearing down freedom and you are out here helping them prove it."

As Barkley began trudging from door-to-door with Johnny by his side, he stopped to shake hands with one woman. A photographer asked him to "hold it."

"I'll hold it as long as she will let me," he replied.

At one house, the 74-year-old veep told a woman:

"I'm delivering your copy of the Paducah Sun-Democrat this afternoon and taking subscriptions—in advance."

The woman thanked him but said she was paid up until about the first of January.

Barkley promised to return then. "I'm going to be out of a job the first of the year anyway."

He had agreed to carry the newspapers in tribute to the nation's newsboys since this is National Newspaper Week.

Heckling And Boos Don't Bother Harry On Campaign Junket

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—President Truman showed outward pleasure today over his reception by train-side crowds in the first week of his "give 'em hell" campaign to deglamorize Dwight D. Eisenhower.

He showed no concern, whatsoever, aides reported, over occasional heckling and boos that punctuated his trip into the bay area for two speeches and a round of conferences with key figures in the complex California political situation.

Still Looks Fresh

Truman looked as fresh as he did last Saturday night when he started out from Washington on a coast-to-coast whistle stop tour for Adlai Stevenson in a virtually unprecedented campaign for another man.

He speaks at 5 p. m., EST, in the Palace Hotel. Then, to wind up a week of campaigning probably more vigorous than that he conducted for his own election in 1948, he moves over to Oakland for a major address at 11:30 p. m., EST, at a Democratic rally in the auditorium.

In this most unusual of campaign trips, Truman got a welcome to California by Republican Gov. Earl Warren after voicing praise of him as a "liberal" and paying compliments to Republican Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon and Sen. William E. Langer of North Dakota, the latter, professing no commitments yet in the presidential race, rode the Democratic campaign train across North Dakota.

Last night when the 16-car special pulled into Davis, Calif., last stop before Oakland, Gov. Warren climbed aboard to give Truman an official welcome after driving over from the capital at Sacramento.

Query Ignored

Warren, who lost the GOP presidential nomination, welcomed Truman as he said he would always welcome "the President of the United States."

He mentioned their personal friendship and Truman praised Warren as "one of the greatest governors of the United States"

Nation Pays Tribute To Newspaper Boys

By PERRY STIRLING

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Nation's great paused today to pay tribute to the kid next door—the boy who delivers your newspaper.

The youthful champions of free enterprise get special recognition today when the U. S. postoffice places on sale a three-cent stamp honoring their service to community and country.

Special Stamp Issued

In a special ceremony at Benjamin Franklin Institute, Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson will present the first stamp to a newspaperboy. The Franklin Institute was chosen, Donaldson said, because Franklin was "probably the first newspaperboy."

The stamp will be sold exclusively in Philadelphia for a short time and then will be placed on sale throughout the nation. It depicts a newspaperboy carrying papers in an average American community. On the boy's bag is the legend "busy boys—better boys."

The stamp, printed in three shades of purple, was adopted from a sketch made by the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin's editorial cartoonist, F. O. Alexander.

Free Enterprise Grows

The paper carriers were honored by the Bulletin at a banquet last night attended by such prominent former newspaperboys as Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder; Harold Stassen, president of the university of Pennsylvania; former U. S. Sen. Francis J. Myers; and Horace A. Hildreth, president of Bucknell University and former governor of Maine.

Speaking at the banquet Snyder said, "Newspaperboys exemplify the vigor of American free enterprise." The secretary praised the boys' contribution to national defense and pointed out that the carriers sold nearly two million 10-cent war savings stamps during World War II and are currently distributing door-to-door pamphlets urging their customers to continue their purchase of defense bonds.

Envoy Charged With Slandering Life In Moscow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is expected to hit back soon at Russia for ousting Ambassador George F. Kennan on grounds he "slandered" the Soviets by comparing American life in Moscow with his interment by the Nazis.

Secretary of State Acheson and his principal aides started studying means of retaliation as soon as Moscow's demands for Kennan's recall yesterday plunged troubled American-Soviet relations into a new crisis.

Acheson, after a telephone conference with President Truman, forecast there probably would be a sharp new protest note to the Kremlin shortly. Officials looked for the Moscow post to be left vacant for a long time as an expression of American resentment.

The United States could expel newly-arrived Soviet Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin, but Acheson told newsmen there was "no present indication" of doing this. He apparently ruled out any idea of breaking off diplomatic relations.

As far as officials could determine, it was the first time in history an American ambassador has been ousted on the ground he was persona non grata, or personally unacceptable.

British Make Shift

The episode overshadowed another major diplomatic development—the replacement of Sir Oliver Franks as British ambassador in Washington by Sir Roger Makins. Franks asked to be relieved after four years in the U. S. capital.

The change in British ambassadors was announced last night in London. Franks is leaving for home Nov. 28.

Makins, a tall, 48-year-old diplomat who like Franks is an economist as well, is due here in time for the presidential inauguration in January.

A former minister-counselor at the Washington embassy, Makins is a brother-in-law of William McChesney Martin, Federal Reserve Board chairman. Both married daughters of the late Dwight F. Davis, one-time secretary of war.

Back Pay Looks Like Vote Buying

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.) says distribution at this time of four million dollars in back holiday pay due 10,000 present and former government workers is "an obvious and outright attempt to buy votes."

Halleck's statement, distributed yesterday by the Republican National Committee, said the payments are being made to printing office workers, and in some cases are retroactive to 1942.

He said the decision to make the payments could have been made any time, and compared their "timing" with the "announcement that house mortgage restrictions would be lessened and like announcement the administration is issuing in a stream."

Cease-Fire In Korea Plank Of Progressive

NEW YORK (AP)—Vincent Hallinan, Progressive party candidate for resident, has invited GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower and Democratic standard-bearer Adlai Stevenson to a public television debate on Korea.

Hallinan, speaking last night at a Brooklyn rally, said neither Eisenhower nor Stevenson had any definite plan for ending the conflict in Korea, whereas he himself is "the only candidate . . . who is calling for immediate cease fire."

A California attorney, Hallinan was nominated by his party while serving a jail term for contempt growing out of his defense of West Coast labor leader Harry Bridges.

Name Delegates At MEA Session

Upper Michigan teachers Friday selected C. P. Titus, business manager of Sault Ste. Marie public schools, and J. Earl Cousineau, Manistique High School business teacher, as delegates to the convention of the National Education Association in Miami next summer.

About 2400 U. P. teachers met Thursday and Friday in Marquette for their annual regional conference. Allan Mathison, Escanaba teacher, was conference chairman and six Escanaba teachers served as section chairmen. Numerous Escanaba teachers participated in panels and other discussions.

Rear Adm. Ellis M. Zacharias (Ret.), a former U. S. intelligence deputy director, was among principal speakers at meetings yesterday.

Professor Beck Talks

He declared the United States' major interests do not depend upon Asia because Europe is the important center for peace and future world security.

Admiral Zacharias, author of "Secret Missions" and "Behind Closed Doors" outlined formulas for peace in a rapid-fire talk which teachers described as "sensational." Underscoring the importance of electing responsible, intelligent persons to run the government, the retired Naval officer stressed that peace was "not inevitable."

Upper Michigan teachers yesterday also heard Prof. E. C. Beck, president of the Michigan Education Association, and Lillian C. Comar, of the National Education Association.

Invited To Escanaba

Professor Beck, who heads the English department at Central Michigan College of Education, and who is known as the "lumberjack professor," emphasized the gains made by education over the years.

He cited, in a talk "What's Right with American Schools," that teachers now are better trained and that curricula are more practical. He pointed out that more people are in school now, and for longer periods, than ever before, and that more students are graduating.

At Thursday sessions teachers heard Robert Vogeler, American businessman, who was imprisoned in Hungary for 17 months on charges lodged by a Communist government; and Clare Taylor, of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

Escanaba, Ironwood and Iron Mountain-Kingsford extended invitations to teachers for the 1953 MEA conference. Decision on a conference site is made by the MEA regional board at a later date.

New Directors Elected By C-C

The election of six new directors of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, five for three-year terms and one for an unexpired term of one year, was announced this morning by Secretary Hugh Grow.

The new directors elected for three years are John J. Bartella, John Boyle, A. W. Freeman, A. J. Goulais and Juel Lee. John H. Root was elected for the unexpired term, a vacancy created by the resignation of Howard L. Timms.

The directors were elected in balloting completed yesterday.

Holdover directors are Gust Asp, C. W. Bensinger, John L. Greene, J. Lee Hendricks, L. J. Jacobs, G. W. Knutson, Percy Rosemurgy, C. W. Stoll and Wm. Warmington.

Press Carriers Earned $30,000 During Past Year

The earnings of the 92 Escanaba Daily Press newsboys during the past year totalled $30,000 of which $4,000 was saved by the boys through a Daily Press savings plan, Duncan Cameron, circulation manager announced today, National Newspaperboy Day.

In addition to the $4,000 saved by the carriers through the Daily Press savings plan, the boys also have accumulated other savings through individual savings programs.

"A newsboy earns more than 'pin money' on a paper route," Cameron said. "The training in business that newspaperboys get is sound, practical experience that is helpful later in business careers. It is not accidental that so many of our successful business and industrial leaders were newspaperboys years ago."

Pioneer Local Resident Dies

Mrs. Anna Kamrath, 87, a resident of Escanaba since 1885, died suddenly of a heart attack last night at the home of a son, Arthur O. Kamrath, 1012 Eighth Ave. S.

Mrs. Kamrath was in good health right up to the time that she was stricken with a heart attack shortly after nine p. m. She died at 9:30.

She was born in Germany June 28, 1865 and was married to Herman C. Kamrath Sr. in Quinnesec in January, 1882. Mr. and Mrs. Kamrath moved to Escanaba in 1885 and she has lived here continuously since. Her husband died in Dec. 1922. He was a fire chief for the Escanaba Fire Department.

Mrs. Kamrath was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, The Rebecca Lodge and the Lady Maccabees.

She is survived by four sons and a daughter. They are Robert, Saginaw; Herman and Arthur, Escanaba; Herbert, Barrington, Ill.; and Mrs. A. V. Verville, Washington, D. C. Thirteen grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m., Monday from Anderson funeral home chapel by the Rev. James Bell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and burial will be in Lakeview cemetery. Friends may call at the Anderson funeral home beginning Sunday noon.

DOG HANGINGS

Less than a century ago, it was the custom in Great Britain and other parts of Europe to put dogs to death by hanging. From this almost universal practice came the much-used expression, "die like a dog," we hear so often today.

Inland Stock Plan Success

An employee stock ownership plan of Inland Steel Company, offered to company personnel a month ago, promises to be an outstanding success, Clarence B. Randall, president, said today.

Reporting results of the sign-up of employees, Randall said that 7,600 of the 19,000 eligible for the plan had joined.

The company-wide participation was 40 per cent of eligible personnel, with participation by hourly and other non-supervisory employees reaching 35 per cent, Randall said.

Employees took options, he said, on 208,000 shares, worth more than $8,750,000 at the option price. This amounted to 83 per cent of the 250,000 shares that had been set aside for the offering to employees.

Under the plan, employees who had been with the company or its subsidiaries two years or more were entitled to an option on shares equal in value to 25 per cent of their 1951 earnings from the company. The offer was on an identical basis to all eligible employees, including officials.

The option entitles the holder to buy shares at $47.25 a share or 95 per cent of the closing market price on August 25, at any time between August 25, 1953, and August 25, 1955.

Participating employees, upon joining, authorized payroll deductions which will accumulate savings to pay for the stock optioned to them. Those who withdraw from the plan, which can be done at any time, will receive back any savings up to that time, plus interest at the rate of 2 per cent annually.

Inland Lime and Stone Company, Manistique, is a subsidiary of Inland Steel. The company also operates iron ore mines in Upper Michigan.

HONOR GRADUATE—Cpl. Ralph H. Valiquette of Escanaba, Mich., recently graduated with honors from the U. S. Army Europe Ordnance School, Eschwege, Germany. Corporal Valiquette was an honor graduate in the Tank M47 Field Maintenance course conducted at the school. In order to achieve this honor, he maintained an average grade of 95.8 per cent throughout the entire course of instruction. (U. S. Army Photo)

Ephraim Dufresne Of Gary Dies

Ephraim Dufresne, a brother of Phil Dufresne of Gladstone and a former resident of Escanaba, died early today at his home in Gary, Ind.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Paul Calhoun, two sons, Donald and Melvin and three grandchildren, all of Gary.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tolan and Mrs. Cecelia Fish are leaving to attend the funeral services which will be held in Gary Tuesday. Mrs. Tolan and Mrs. Fish are sisters-in-laws.

Meyer Heads Music Group

Robert S. Meyer, director of music in Escanaba public schools, Friday was elected president of a U. P. School Music Association organized at the MEA conference in Marquette.

Meyer, who was chairman of the music section of the MEA conference, initiated plans for the peninsula-wide school music organization.

Joseph Patterson, of Gravenet High School in Marquette was elected vice president in charge of instrumental music; and Mrs. A. C. Hill, of L'Anse was named vice president in charge of vocal music. Paul Cowen, of Gladstone, was named secretary, and Joseph Giovannini, of Manistique, was elected treasurer.

All Upper Michigan schools participating in local, district or U. P. music festivals are eligible for membership, and have been invited to participate. The organization is for coordination of efforts to encourage music in U. P. schools.

Plans for the school music organization were begun a year ago, in an effort to relieve host schools for festivals of the burden of planning the invitational meets, and to make more time available for music clinics at the annual music section meetings in the MEA convention.

About 100 Upper Michigan music teachers attended section meetings at the MEA conference in Marquette Thursday and Friday. E. C. Moore, former Lawrence College (Appleton, Wis.) music professor, gave a lecture, and band demonstration with the Gravenet High School band during the conference.

Dr. Allan Niemi, of Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette, conducted a string music clinic and T. Ray Uhlinger,

Samuel Thompson Dies, Funeral Services Monday

Samuel Thompson, 77, of 609 Stephenson Ave., died at 3:30 p. m., Friday at St. Francis Hospital where he had been a patient the past two weeks.

Mr. Thompson was born in Norway March 3, 1875, and had lived in Escanaba since 1920, coming here from Manistique. He was a woodsman by trade. He was a member of Immanuel Lutheran Church.

He was unmarried and his only survivor is a brother who lives in New York state.

The body was taken to the Degan Funeral Home where friends may call beginning at 2 p. m., Sunday. Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m., at the funeral home chapel with the Rev. Johannes Ringstad officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Not Getting Along; Wife Of Actor Bruce Cabot Has Daughter

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—Actor Bruce Cabot's estranged wife, Francesca de Scaffa, was progressing satisfactorily today after a series of blood transfusions following the birth of a daughter.

The child was born Thursday night and was named Alfonsine for Francesca's mother.

The Cabots were divorced last Nov. 27, but last month her attorney won court permission to amend the complaint and put off the final decree, explaining that as the result of a reconciliation she was to have a child. Mrs. Cabot said, however, that she doesn't expect another reconciliation.

"We are not getting along," she explained.

County Polio Total Now 47

Delta County's polio total for the outbreak which began this summer now is 47. Delta-Menominee health department records reveal.

Three cases which earlier were questionable cases of the diseases now have been definitely diagnosed as polio.

The three cases, reported this week by the Children's Clinic in Marquette, are Delores Jean Sharkey, 18 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Sharkey, of Rapid River; Wayne Sharkey, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sharkey, of Rapid River; and Randy J. Nelson, 3, of Brampton.

The Nelson child was admitted to St. Luke's hospital in Marquette Sept. 3 for post-polio treatment.

Delores Sharkey is being treated at home, and Wayne, her cousin, is in St. Luke's hospital at Marquette. Wayne was admitted Oct. 2.

C&NW Veterans Meet Sunday

The Veterans Association of the Peninsula Division, Chicago and North Western Railroad, will hold its seventh annual banquet tomorrow at 1:30 o'clock at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

A crowd of about 275 persons is expected to attend the banquet, including general officers of the association from Chicago.

W. R. Roberts, Chicago general president, and W. C. Upton, Lake Villa, Ill., general secretary, will be here for the banquet.

Community singing, a short musical program, speeches by the general officers and a five-minute talk by Elmer LaPlante, 50-year veteran, will be presented. After the program, there will be dancing.

A turkey dinner with all of the trimmings will be served.

George Harvey will be toastmaster and other members of the banquet committee are C. T. Weir, Alvin O'Donnell, H. Sundelius and Lee Carter. Local officers are W. V. Leppla, president; G. W. Walters, vice president; L. J. Barber, secretary-treasurer; L. A. McMillan, chairman.

Escanaba Planning Commission Meet Scheduled Thursday

A regular meeting of the Escanaba Planning Commission is scheduled for 7:30 p. m., Thursday, Oct. 9 in city council chambers.

Reports from a sub-division committee on a field study made of acreage in the area bounded by South Fifth and Eighth avenues and 19th and 23rd streets are to be received.

The commission also is slated to consider a report on utility meter installations in areas zoned for single family residences, and a recommendation to change zoning of the area recently acquired by Harnischfeger corporation to industrial.

The planning commission at its last meeting referred a proposal from the engineering department for changes in street platting in the 19th to 23rd street area to a sub-committee.

It is expected the commission will decide Thursday whether an original recommendation on a revised plat for the area should be withdrawn in favor of a revised plan which would eliminate Sixth avenue South, between 19th and 23rd streets, and provide for continuation of 20th street between Fifth and Seventh avenues south.

Briefly Told

Schools Reopen—Delta County schools will reopen Monday following a two-day vacation, Thursday and Friday, while the county's 304 public and parochial school teachers attended conferences in Marquette.

Shooting Time—Migratory waterfowl hunters who operate in the Little Bay de Noc and south shore areas between the 87th and 88th meridians are reminded of a change in shooting times effective Sunday. Between Oct. 5 and 11 shooting is permitted only from 6:21 a. m. to 5:25 p. m. (E.S.T.).

Stamp Club—The October meeting of the Escanaba Philatelic Society will be held Sunday afternoon beginning at 3 in the council chambers at the city hall. S.P.A. books of stamps will be on display, there will be a short business meeting and a stamp trading session. All stamp collectors of Escanaba and vicinity are invited to attend.

Social Security Checks Higher

This week will bring increased social security checks to about 1014 aged people in Delta County and to 343 dependent children of retired workers and young survivors of workers who have died, according to Carl L. Johnson, manager of the Escanaba social security office. Benefit checks mailed during the first week of October will be at a monthly rate of $48,054.82 in Delta County.

Increases of from $5 to $8.60 each month will go to most retired workers who receive old-age insurance payments. Dependents of these retired workers and survivors of workers who have died will also receive increased benefits in most cases. Increases in payments to dependents and survivors, however, will be smaller than the increases for retired workers—usually from $2 to $5.

Mr. Johnson pointed out that although several members of a family may receive monthly payments based on the social security account of a retired or deceased worker, the law sets limits on the total amount of monthly payments to the family. Family payments are limited to 80 per cent of the worker's average monthly wage or to $168.75, whichever is less. (Because each benefit is paid in multiples of 10 cents, actual payments are a few cents more than these figures in some cases.)

A few families receiving benefits that amounted to 80 per cent of the worker's average monthly wage before the law was changed will receive no increases.

The table below shows the amounts of the increases for certain families:

| | Up to Last Month | Beginning This Month |
|--|------------------|----------------------|
| Retired Worker | $20.00 | $25.00 |
| | 40.00 | 45.00 |
| | 60.00 | 67.50 |
| | 68.50 | 77.10 |
| Worker and Wife | $30.00 | $37.50 |
| | 60.00 | 65.60 |
| | 90.00 | 101.30 |
| | 102.80 | 115.70 |
| Widow, Widower, Parent, or One Surviving Child | $15.00 | $18.80 |
| | 30.00 | 33.80 |
| | 45.00 | 50.70 |
| | 51.40 | 57.90 |
| Widow and One Child | $30.00 | $37.60 |
| | 60.00 | 65.60 |
| | 90.00 | 101.40 |

Kiwanis Club To Visit Press

In observance of National Newspaper Week, the Escanaba Kiwanis club will salute the working press at their regular meeting Monday noon at the House of Ludington. After the luncheon, members of the club will visit the plant of the Escanaba Daily Press to inspect new equipment and observe actual production of the daily news sheet.

Club president Rudolph Erickson said that more than 3,500 Kiwanis clubs throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii are conducting similar programs designed primarily to draw public attention to the importance of maintaining freedom of the press. Kiwanis International has participated in the observance of National Newspaper Week almost from its inception 13 years ago.

Newspaper Association Managers, Inc., sponsor of the week, announced recently that the permanent slogan will be: "Your Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom". The 1952 theme is: "Your Right to Know... A Constitutional Guarantee."

Morale Specialist Will Speak at EHS

"How Wise Is a Wise Guy" is the title of a talk to be given Monday, Oct. 6 at Escanaba Senior High School by Michael H. Klein, of Middleton, Wis.

The address is part of the school's regular assembly series. This is the second of eight booked for EHS students. In September, Edwin Baron, a hypnotist, presented the assembly program.

Klein, who is a lawyer, edited an eight-page Army newspaper and made surveys and gave lectures on army morale during World War II.

His lectures for the War department took him to the Aleutian Islands, Alaska and to hospitals and camps in the U. S. While overseas he conducted two radio programs, in addition to editing and founding the "Sourdough Sentinel."

Klein combines the human with the humorous side of life in his lectures. Among his pithy statements is "Self-pity-five out of five have it."

Yale Student Will Train At Health Department Here

Arrangements were completed yesterday for an Upper Michigan Yale University student to take a field training course with the Delta-Menominee health department.

The student, Miss Rauha Koski, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Onni A. Koski, of Hancock, Mich., will come to Escanaba Oct. 14 to begin the course. She is in her final year at Yale University graduate professional school of nursing in New Haven, Conn. Previously she worked two months with visiting nursing organizations.

Arrangements were made with Miss Helene Baker, and Dr. Arthur G. Baker of the local health administration section of the Michigan Department of Health.

Doctor Baker, Miss Baker, and a U. S. Public Health Service loan consultant were here yesterday, from Lansing, to complete arrangements and confer with officials here on U. P. health problems.

Holy Name Men Will Rally Here

The first in a series of seven Holy Name rallies to be conducted in the deaneries of the Marquette Catholic Diocese will be held in St. Joseph Church and Bonifas auditorium here Sunday evening.

A Holy Hour will be conducted by the Very Rev. Thomas L. Noa, bishop of Marquette, at 8 p. m., in St. Joseph Church, in conjunction with Forty Hour devotions there.

Afterwards men of the 16 parish societies in Delta and Schoolcraft counties will assemble in Bonifas auditorium, where the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John T. Holland, of St. John parish in Menominee, will speak.

Holy Name men from the two counties will first meet at St. Patrick Church and march in procession to St. Joseph Church, and thence to Bonifas auditorium.

Among visiting clergymen will be the Rt. Rev. David Spelgatti, of Marquette, who is diocesan director of Holy Name activities.

Church Workers To Meet Monday

An area Church Workers' Conference comprising churches from Menominee to Manistique will be held Monday, Oct. 6, in the First Presbyterian Church at Escanaba.

It is one of five such conferences to be held in the Upper Peninsula this coming week under auspices of the Michigan Council of Churches, United Church Women of Michigan and the Ministerial Associations. Others will be held at Ironwood, Calumet, Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie.

Atty. Clair J. Hoehn of Gladstone, president of the Delta County Council of Churches is Conference chairman.

Dr. Holman To Speak

There will be two sessions, morning and early afternoon, in the Conference program here. There will be separate seminars for ministers and for laymen and women both morning and afternoon.

The ministers will have as their resource leader, the Rev. Dr. Charles T. Holman, minister of Union Church, Guatemala, author, and former professor of practical theology at University of Chicago's School of Divinity, who will talk on the role of counselling in the parish ministry.

Dr. Holman is the author of two books on the subject, "The Cure of Souls" and "Getting Down to Cases." His experience has been extensive in the field of pastoral counselling.

The lay people's seminar will discuss "Religion for the Tensions of Modern Family Living." The

Don't cover yourself just part way

Insurance protection should be complete—not patchy. You don't buy half an umbrella or one boot—or roof only one room of your house.

The primary purpose of insurance is to worry-proof your life. You chip a minor sum into a kitty each year to protect yourself against major losses by fire, accidents, law suits, theft, etc.

So make it your business to protect yourself ALL OVER, from every angle. It is OUR business to show you how.

Your Right To Know Pivotal Privilege Of All Freedoms

NATIONAL Newspaper Week extends through Wednesday, Oct. 8, and although we have commented on the importance of newspapers to their communities earlier during this observance, it is fitting that we take this additional opportunity to emphasize how American newspapers are a pivotal defender of individual liberty.

National Newspaper Week is set apart each year by America's free democratic journalism as period of self-examination and reeducation.

You ask, "So what?" Well, for one thing, it's your week quite as much as the newspaper's. It's dedicated this year to Your Right to Know.

One of its chief purposes is to inspire better journalism—so that you may be better served. Another is to remind every American of the importance of guarding the freedom of information guaranteed to our people by the Bill of Rights.

The individual reader and his newspaper have an inseparable common interest in that constitutional guarantee. Our people must be free. To remain free, they must be informed. To be adequately informed, they must have unshackled sources of information.

Individual freedom would perish if freedom of the press should die.

We have heard it said from time to time that the newspapers make too much fuss about the freedom of the press. Too many people regard it as a special privilege of the newspapers. That simply is not so. Freedom of the press is the pivot of all individual freedoms and the guarantor of all liberty.

Freedom of information is being assailed in many parts of the world. Even in America only a few months ago President Truman said that he believed he possessed the inherent right to shackle the press if HE thought the public interest required it.

We Americans can no more permit special interests to chisel away our precious liberties bit by bit than we can permit those rights to be swallowed in one chunk as they are done in Russia, in Red satellite nations and in Argentina.

Our journalistic freedom comes from a consent of the people, in recognition of their need and their right to be informed.

Horse On The Reds

SOME good news for the U. S. came from Panama this week when a former national police chief named Jose Antonio Remon was administered the oath of office as president.

Campaigning on a platform of friendliness for Americans, Remon was endorsed by all five of Panama's major political parties in last spring's national elections and won by a large majority.

Remon is a former student at the U. S. Army Cavalry School at Ft. Riley, Kan. If he is able to reverse the tide of anti-American sentiment in Panama by promoting U. S.-Panama trade and improving diplomatic relations, it will be a horse on the cocky Canal Zone Commies.

Why So Long For Deportation Action?

ATTY. Gen. James P. McGranery yesterday announced Justice Department plans for deporting scores of underworld hoodlums, including a half dozen characters in organized crime mobs.

Naturally we are pleased that some efforts are being developed to rid us of these hoodlums, but the big question that comes to mind is: Why haven't these alien thugs been deported long ago?

Many of these hoodlums have criminal records dating back to the gangland days of Al Capone. According to McGranery, many of them either became American citizens fraudulently or they have lost their right to citizenship since.

Should it take 25 years to start action against crooks, hoodlums and other undesirable who can be deported under our alien laws?

It is significant that so many of the big shot gangster leaders are men who technically are aliens and therefore subject to deportation.

We hope that Atty. Gen. McGranery is not simply sounding off a month before election to gain some political strength in his announcement. We hope that he really means what he says and that he proceeds promptly to get these hoodlums out of the country.

Other Editorial Comments

HOT DOG (Christian Science Monitor)

It gives us pleasure to pay tribute to a distinguished native of Frankfurt born in humble circumstances 100 years ago.

The German butcher who fathered this odd-shaped fellow with the strange resemblance to his favorite dachshund could hardly have realized that in time his progeny would cross the ocean, become a naturalized American, make a howling commercial success in the century of the common man, and even be introduced by an American President to a visiting King and Queen of England (Hyde Park, 1939).

Such, however, is the illustrious history of the frankfurter or hot dog. (The name "weenie" sometimes mis-applied to it suggests a frivolous strain of Vienna (Wien) sausage mingling with its lineage of pure Frankfurter dachshund.) Today, in the country of its adoption, it is so popular that if all the hot dogs wolfed by Americans in one year were laid muzzle to muzzle they would circle the globe 22 times.

If such globe-circling possibilities be denounced as a threat of cultural imperialism, we would reassure anxious Russians behind the caviar curtain that these modern redskins from America advance with purely pacific purpose. They are mustered only to be relished. They ask no more than to be taken in.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The joint chiefs of staff have given careful consideration to some plan by which they could end the long-drawn-out Korean stalemate. They fear that if the war drags on for another winter, the American public will become so apathetic that the Defense Department will be in an untenable position.

As a solution, Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Chief of Staff, has been urging that American ground troops be pulled out of Korea altogether, and the ground war be turned over to American-trained South Koreans. The United Nations, he advises, could provide air support and supply equipment. Vandenberg argues this will leave the Chinese as the only foreigners in Korea and tend to unite the Koreans against the Chinese. Now, on the other hand, there is considerable Korean feeling against Americans.

Vandenberg also believes Korea might be protected through a public ultimatum by the United Nations that if Chinese aggression is renewed against South Korea, the Chinese mainland would be attacked by air and the Chinese coast would be blockaded by the Navy.

However, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs, does not agree with Vandenberg. Neither does Gen. Joe Collins, Army Chief of Staff, or to a lesser degree Adm. W. F. Fechteler. They argue that ground troops must remain in Korea until prisoners or war are exchanged.

Thousands of Americans in Communist P. O. W. camps, they say, must not be deserted.

At present, the only obstacle remaining in the truce talks is the exchange of prisoners and the Chinese seem to have no intention of settling it. However, General Bradley argues that as long as the talks continue, there is hope, and he is adamant that American boys in prison camps must not be left there.

There has been some discussion inside the Defense Department over forcing the Communist hand by blockading the Chinese coast. The Navy is all set to carry out this assignment, but the trouble is with our United Nations allies. They are dead set against it. Great Britain is especially adamant on the ground that a blockade might cause her to lose Hong Kong.

Defense speed up—Henry Fowler, chief of the whole mobilization program, will soon announce that America now has enough new factories and machine tools to permit a big speed-up in mobilization. Fowler will say that because of these new factories we can reach our defense goals by 1954—the year of greatest danger from the Russians.

Hitherto we weren't expecting to be ready until 1955—one year after the period of greatest danger.

But Fowler will say that if the administration and the congress are willing to give the green light and spend the money, the United States will be prepared to meet any Russian threat.

Dewey and Nixon—though Governor Dewey is carefully staying in the background so Eisenhower won't be tagged a Dewey man, he keeps in close touch with the General by long-distance phone. Dewey was so worried over the Nixon furor that he asked friends across the country to wire their immediate reaction to Nixon's broadcast. (Dewey was among those who recommended Nixon for veep.)

Manistique—A hard-fighting Newberry eleven and a strong Manistique football squad battled to a 13-13 tie here yesterday.

Menominee—The Eskymos staged a fourth period rally to defeat Menominee 14 to 7 in the annual renewal of their football rivalry here today. The Escanaba squad was as follows: Bartley, LE; Bowers, LT; Chapekis, LG; Hall, C; Larson, RG; Marvic, RT; Shalman, RE; Boyle, QB; Dufresne, HB; Christensen, HB; Plotenhauer, FB. Escanaba substitutes playing were Grodesky, Cook, Peterson, Hansley, Molon and Marengue.

Escanaba—Edward Jernstrom, 809 South 11th street, had an exciting experience while hunting near Woodlawn last week. After shooting a partridge, he heard a snarl, and found a bobcat glaring at him from a broken tree, five feet overhead. Jernstrom shot the 30-pound animal, which he believed escaped from a trap. It's left front foot was mangled.

Without Partiality

The Nang-Nang Girls:

Korea's Hostess Entertains At Fancy Balls, Mountain Outposts

By ELENOR SPALDING

PUSAN, Korea — (NEA)—The most fabulous woman in South Korea is a poetess turned politician who claims to have organized 2,000,000 Korean girls into party entertainers for diplomats, top military brass, and other officers.

Yoon Sook Moh, known simply as Mrs. Moh, calls her legions the "Nang-Nang" girls. But others have described them as latter-day Mata Haris.

It is said that the Nang-Nang girls spy on the Communists. It also is said that, thanks to Mrs. Moh, President Syngman Rhee knows everything the United Nations Command is thinking.

Her high command in Pusan consists of a group of middle-aged ladies of unquestioned social standing and impeccable reputation, who plan parties for generals and diplomats.

"We never get invited," was the rueful remark of an Army Special Services hostess. "But the Nang-Nang girls do."

For top brass, Mrs. Moh herself arranges parties, frequently giving them at her own villa by the sea. For newspapermen and younger officers close to the high command, she sends out groups of young and pretty girls.

One night the signals got crossed. Some younger men were annoyed to find their entertainers 10 years older than they. It never occurred to them that this was Mrs. Moh's first team of Korean party-makers—the high command. The men called up and complained that their entertainers were a little too mature. Within 15 minutes, a high Korean Government official showed up with the young girls, and the older women quietly withdrew.

The first team does double duty. By night, its members dress in the filmy Korean national costume and make light and gay with men of rank. By day, they knock on

Army doors demanding supplies with which to entertain Korean troops.

Mrs. Moh is a plump and jolly woman, who dresses in the traditional white cheese cloth bolero-length jacket, with a skirt of shocking pink cut off just above the ankle, instead of below as most Korean women wear them.

Her home looks drab from the outside. But inside, the walls of a spacious living room, were drawn back to reveal a breathtaking view of jagged rocks and incredibly blue sea. Gilded party chairs and tables were covered in white.

Mrs. Moh does not apologize for the time she spends entertaining high ranking Americans. Instead, she praises their generosity and their help to her organization.

Nang-Nang girls, she says, entertain at champagne parties. But they also climb mountains infested by guerrillas to take hot suppers to police outposts. The name Nang-Nang, Mrs. Moh explained, dates from an era 2500 years ago when Korean court ladies led the intelligentsia and went off to war carrying their own swords.

"Today, the Korean woman is nothing," said Mrs. Moh. "She is most unlucky."

Besides entertaining troops, Nang-Nang girls are instructing other women in the care of their children, in better sanitation and in nutrition. When the war is over, she hopes to use her organization to liberate Korean women.

Known formally as the National Women's Youth Association, her organization was founded with the assistance of President Rhee.

Until the liberation in 1945, Mrs. Moh was a high school teacher and a poetess. She was also an observer for the Government of Korea at the United Nations assemblies in Paris in 1949 and at Lake Success in 1950. She was broadcasting some of her poetry in Seoul the night the Communists took the capital city.

"I hid in a basement and then in mountain caves. The Communists especially wanted to catch me because I had been to Lake Success. I must have moved 30 times. I ate grass until I could not walk to pick it. And then I drank the blood from my legs."

As Mrs. Moh spoke, she was smoking American cigarettes. As she gestured, a new gold watch with gold band sparkled on her arm.

"I was losing my senses," she said. "I knew I could not tell who were the Communists and who were our troops."

She said that she took the poison she was saving for such an occasion and rolled down a mountainside—into the arms of United Nations troops. U. S. Army doctors saved her life and sent her back to Pusan. The government gave her the villa she has, she explained, so that she could recover and write more poetry.

Good Evening...

THE GREAT MYSTERY—From what has seemed to be a long lifetime engaged in putting up storm windows we have come to the conclusion that one of the greatest mysteries in the world is how to know where each window should go on the house.

No two people have the same system of marking the windows so they will know, from one year to the next, which storm window goes where.

Still vivid in recollection is the time we moved into a rented house and when fall came began to put up the storm windows.

Some of storm windows were marked with numerals whose counterpart could not be discovered on the house. And with teasing irresponsibility someone had written "Minnie's Room" on one of the windows.

We did not know and had never known Minnie. She was probably a young lady of good character, talented, and given to reading good books. For those reasons, if no other, we were unable to determine where Minnie's room was.

OF MANY SYSTEMS—After conducting an informal survey among our friends we have come to the conclusion that what this world needs is a simplified system of marking storm windows.

Some people begin numbering them "First floor, NE Corner, No. 1" and proceed from there. After the first year they are confused because there are two windows on the northeast corner of the house—and which is 1 and which 2 is anybody's guess.

Others use Roman numerals, some Arabic, and then there are the less imaginative who rely upon descriptive terms like "dining room" and "kitchen."

Remodeling, of course, can throw the latter system completely out of kilter. We know one man who is putting his "music room" storm windows on the bathroom, while the ones marked "bathroom" are reducing drafts in the breakfast nook.

STATE OF CONFUSION—After years of use storm windows carry more notches than a frontiersman's rifle stock.

Each of the notches, gouges, marks and signs meant something to somebody at sometime in the past.

Now all is confusion, for what had been clear as a bell to the man who chipped the hieroglyphics is now lost in the musty realms of time. Only the ghosts of departed scribes would be able to decipher the correct meaning from these wooden Rosetta stones inlaid with glass.

A FITTING JOB—What most storm window putter-uppers use is the slow but logical method of deduction.

You take a storm window out of the basement, carry it carefully around the house, holding it up to each window to see if it matches the frame it is supposed to fit. Eventually, by close scrutiny of identifying marks and paint scrapes, the right one is found.

Sighing in relief you lean the storm window against the house directly under the window to which it is to be applied. Then you gather up water pail and other materials for washing the glass.

Last of all comes the ladder, and as you round the corner you step in the pail of water, fall, and one end of the ladder pokes a hole in the storm window.

PAINT AND PUTTY—One or more broken storm windows is to be expected each year. If they are not broken on the house or in putting them up or taking them down, they are broken while in storage.

Just what it is that breaks a storm window in storage is difficult to determine. You never find it out until the windows are ready to go up. Sometimes a tossed ball or roller skate will reveal what broke the glass, but more often than not it is as much of a mystery as the markings that are supposed to identify the windows.

Putting with glass and putty in replacing the broken panes is a job that even the most patient man finds tedious. Shops do the work much quicker and more neatly.

But there is satisfaction to the householder, when winter winds blow, in knowing as he sits comfortably inside that he has—for at least one more year—won the battle of storm windows.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

In the naming of our common wild flowers, our remote ancestors showed as much poetic imagination as in naming the birds. Thus the daisy, as explained by Chaucer, was "the eye of the daisy," or day's eye. And the ordinary dandelion was in French, the dent de lion, or tooth of the lion, so called from the shape of the leaf.

And the delightful Jack-in-the-pulpit—delightful in name, that is—is perfect; just an ordinary "jack," or common fellow, in a beautiful green-canopied pulpit, lined with soft brown. Its other name, however, Indian turnip, serves to remind us that the terribly bitter root may be eaten with impunity, if one first boils and dries it. The Indians did that, and then ground the roots into meal.

St. John's-wort, which, thought a native of Europe, now ranges all over the United States, was so named through popular belief that dew from this herb—"wort" is an old word for "herb"—if collected on the morn of St. John's day, June 24th, was a cure for diseases of the eye. Queen Anne's lace, however, another name for wild carrot, owes its name to the flat lacy heads of the blossom, resembling lace-work attributed to Queen Anne, who reigned over England from 1702 to 1714.

Then there is the Old Maid's Bonnet, another name for the wild lupine, which is so called because the shape of its blossom somewhat fancifully resembles the demure bonnets worn in colonial times. And there is only space left for the Joe-Pye weed, the name of which is said to have been that of an Indian medicine man who cured an outbreak of typhus fever among early New England colonists by medicines prepared from this common weed.

The Christ of the Gospels

By WILLIAM E. GILROY D. D.

It was an ancient saying, "All roads lead to Rome."

In the world of religion and the Bible all roads lead to and from the Four Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John.

In the Gospel story of the coming and teaching of Jesus is the climax of Old Testament hope, prophecy, and teaching. The emphasis upon righteousness and social justice, the conception of God's mercy, the vision of a world-wide religion in which through Israel as a chosen and responsive nation, all nations were to be blest (See Isaiah 2:2-4, and many other passages) all these and many other aspects of Old Testament Religion found their enforcement in the life and teaching of the One who said that He had not come to destroy, but to fulfill.

What Jesus did in the fulfillment of that religious heritage, which as a Jew was His own, was emphasized in His parables. Religious truth had never found such clear, simple, and keen illustration and interpretation. And a remarkable thing is the universality of those storied exemplifications of truth. Though in their original Jewish setting, the Parables are independent of truth, place, and climate, and are everywhere applicable as much as when they were first uttered to the common people who "heard Him gladly."

Saint Paul, like his Master, was an inheritor of all the truth and glory of Israel in the Law and the Prophets. A devout Jew trained at the feet of Gamaliel, he remained a Jew though also he became a Christian glorifying in the advantage of the Jew to whom, he said, had been committed the oracles of God (Romans 3:1-2).

Yet, though he had lived in all good conscience in his pre-Christian zeal and devotion, the Gospels and the knowledge of Jesus Christ brought into Paul's life and religion, something that had not been there before. The Thirteenth of First Corinthians, the chapter of love except for parts of the Sermon on the Mount, and some of the Parables of Jesus, seems to me the greatest sermon ever written.

The life of Tolstoy, already world famous as a novelist, was transformed into a new glory as he discovered the Gospels and gave them emphasis in such beautiful stories as, "Where Love Is, there God Is," and such penetrating applications as in such stories as, "If You Neglect the Little Fire, You Cannot Put Out the Great One." The Gospels would transform every life of those who would concentrate on "the greatest story ever told" of "the greatest life ever lived."

Touring Harry Amazes Ruark

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—You realize that Hollerin's Harry is only a lame-duck president, actually absolved from any real responsibility in office for the rest of the year, but I sure do wish he would tone down the volume of his Hell giving. In the last couple of days he has accused Eisenhower and the Republicans of everything but rape and arson.

I find it a touch embarrassing to the people who elected him, because he is president still and some shred of dignity still attaches to the office. Not only are his accusations wild, illogical and scatter-gunned, but some of them are downright false, and all in dreadful taste.

You also realize that campaign time is a season when anything is supposed to go, and no charge is too impossible to lose off if the noise makes it worth while. But Harry's loose charges about the Republican "special" interests—which he never has really defined—and his raucous bragging over Democratic triumphs turn the stomach a little bit.

Was Harry's Henchmen
For one thing, the country has been in Democratic hands for 20 years. If a great many things are wrong with the country and its administration here as well as its impact abroad, it happened under Democratic stewardship. The Republicans have created very few scandals, possibly due to lack of opportunity. The reek from Washington has issued from Harry's henchmen.

The ball-up abroad has been supervised by Harry's advisers. The war effort abroad has been run by Harry's nominees. The breakdown of our armed forces after the last war was effected by Harry's congress. It was Harry's congress that so cravenly sidestepped Universal Military Training for purely political reasons.

Harry himself pushed us into Korea. Harry's appointees and cronies supervised the looting in Washington. Harry speaks of the Republicans behind the grain lobby. Holy Heaven, Harry's own White House staff was caught dusty-handed speculating in grain futures. I never saw such a downright noisy little fact-twister, even if he is President for the next three months.

Facts Vs. Noise
The rowdy Chief Exec has been stomping up and down on Eisenhower with both feet, sneering at him on one hand and calling him a fool and a tool and near to a traitor on the other. This is the same bosom buddy, Ike Eisenhower, that Truman was offering full support if he wanted to run for president on the Democratic ticket. This is the same Eisenhower he named to run the mobilization of our preparedness program abroad. This is the same Ike he was cloyed with on Ike's return.

The cheapness of Truman's approach to politics mesmerized enough people four years ago to get him elected. If possible, his tactics are cheaper today than four years ago. They are certainly irresponsible, undignified, and, in some substance, flat falsehoods. The whole idea seems to be that if he screams sufficient fishwifery into the whistle-stop air, the tirade will trickle home to a few as absolute fact.

This is old-fashioned politics, maybe, and is possibly effective in an old-fashioned way. Overpowering people with noise is great stuff with the audience at hand, but it supplies so much wonderful ammunition for the opposition. I have noticed that Gov. Stevenson has kept the tirade portion of his speeches to a minimum, and so has Gen. Ike.

The flat, hard charge backed by fact is a good and impressive tool for campaigning, and need not be delivered in the anguished screech and pool-hall wisecrack for effectiveness. If Truman's current barnstorm is shaped to help Adlai win the marbles, I imagine Adlai would rather be on his own. Adlai already has enough albatrosses around his neck, with his party's record, without trying to control the squawks of a vehement crowd.

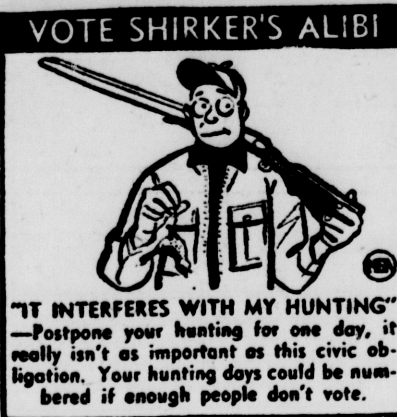

No Kissing
Kahn discussed movie-making in India, and I gathered that it is much different from Hollywood methods. With one exception—censorship.

"Ah, yes, we have censorship, too," he sighed. "But ours is even more strict. We cannot even show a man and woman kissing. Isn't that silly? Indians can see all the kissing they want in American pictures, but it isn't allowed in pictures made in India."

"Nor can we depict gangsters, even though American gangster pictures play Indian theaters."

I asked him how much of the female form he could display. "Up to here," he demonstrated, pointing to the upper ankle. But he added that films could display the bare midriff since that is the custom of women in parts of India. "I think it is a mistake to try to keep sex out of movies," he observed. "Sex is what has made the American film industry so great, and the lack of it has hurt the English picture business. Ninety per cent of the foreign pictures shown in India are American. The rest of English, with a few Italian and French."

First Latin Moving Picture Completed
BRUSSELS (AP)—Enterprising Belgian documentary film director Gaston Vernaillen recently released what is claimed to be the first Latin talking picture in movie history. "Aspects of Imperial Rome of the Fourth Century."

"I thought it would be interesting to provide students and specialists with a tool. My film links a visual theme, Rome's fourth century splendor reconstructed, with an auditory interest, a Latin commentary," said Vernaillen. French and Dutch translations are being made available. When the Latin version of the picture is shown, spectators will be given text in advance to acquaint themselves with it. Unique "star" of this 24-minute long production is a 328-square-foot plaster model of the fourth century capital of the Roman Empire. There are no actors in the film.

A giant drill, four feet in diameter and 200 feet long, is used to bore a horizontal hole in flat-lying coal seams and bring the coal out in a continuous stream. Six of these engine-driven augers operated in parallel can dig out about 700 tons of coal an hour.

Obesity Is Not Inherited Trait

ANN ARBOR—Girth control is not a problem of why are people fat, but what makes people eat too much, states a University authority on obesity.

Pointing out that behind that wolfish appetite is usually found an emotionally disturbed individual, Dr. Jerome W. Conn, professor of internal medicine in the Medical School, says that heavy eaters find comfort in overeating which temporarily soothes the emotional unrest, but starts the big "battle of the bulge" around the waistline.

Usually such people do not understand that their hungering appetites may have an emotional basis, Dr. Conn explains. "They simply indulge in food to compensate a craving that is not physical," he says. "It is a form of 'escape' from disturbing environmental influences."

Obesity is not inherited, he asserts. Body build and bone structure are inherited, but all fat people get that way simply because they overeat.

Dr. Conn states that blaming glandular disturbances for over-eating is merely grabbing at straws for excuses. The glandular balance in the human body determines what part of the body fat will be deposited when one eats excessively, he explains.

"Normal control of appetite returns when emotional problems are solved," he indicates. "Often this cannot be accomplished. However, once the patient understands that the abnormal craving for food is an artificial way of meeting emotional disturbances, 'the battle of the bulge' is won."

No Plane For Dane

OMAHA (AP)—The woman talking to an air lines official was planning to send her dog to Tokyo by air before making the trip to rejoin her husband, and she wanted to know the cost.

The going rate, the official told her, is $3.45 per pound. "I guess we'll just forget about it," the woman said weakly. "We have a Great Dane. He weighs 125 pounds."

Clergyman Claims He's Banned From U.N. Assembly Oct. 14

LONDON (AP)—An Anglican clergyman who tried at past United Nations Assemblies to get South Africa censured for its treatment of Negroes says U. S. immigration regulations are keeping him from the U. N. Assembly opening in New York Oct. 14.

The Rev. Michael Scott told a news conference he had applied for a visa at the U. S. Embassy here July 30 but refused to swear he was never a member of a totalitarian organization or to say in what organizations he held membership.

The 45-year-old white churchman declared:

"If this screening principle is to be applied to individuals, it seems a serious limitation of the freedom of people to travel. I think the oath is wrong. . . . I am not a Communist."

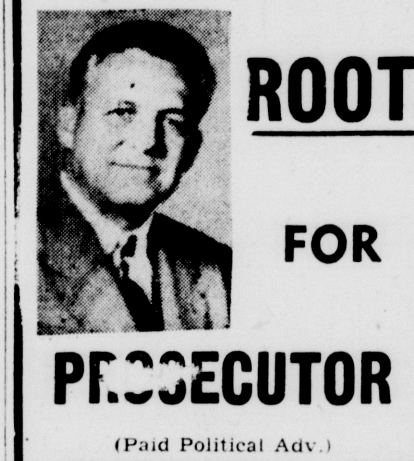

Scott said he wanted to attend the U. N. session as a representative of the International League for the Rights of Man.

In Washington, the State Department said it had no comment.

Water Dropping On Great Lakes

BAY CITY (AP)—An Army engineer told Saginaw Bay beach property owners at natural lowering of Great Lakes levels offers the best prospect for relief from flood damage.

Col. John D. Bristol, chief engineer for the Detroit District, conducted a hearing here to learn the extent of damage along the beaches and to hear corrective proposals.

Some 65 farmers attended the meeting and told of their individual plights. A few cottage owners also told of damage to their property. Col. Bristol explained that the causes of the high water were heavy rains in 1949, 1950 and 1951 and cool summers in 1950 and 1951. In contrast to those years, the summer of 1952 was hot, he said, resulting in high evaporation rates on the lakes. Rainfall also was normal in most areas this year.

"It's too early to make a reliable prediction for next year, but it now looks like the levels will be lower although they will probably still be above normal," Col. Bristol said.

The Barrington

Attractive Early-American Design

Rooms Seven
Bedrooms Three
Closets Ten
Cubage: House 21,400 ft.
Garage 3,800 ft.
Dimensions 30' x 24'

Extending the entire length of the house, the living room is unusually well lighted and ventilated, for there are two windows in the front wall; two more directly opposite in the back wall, and three more in the right wall. Another very attractive feature of the room is the large fireplace in the center of the left wall.

Even with these seven windows, two doors and the fireplace taking up such a large amount of wall space, there is still plenty of room for good furniture arrangement in this 23'x11'4" living room. In the left wall a second door opens on a hallway leading to the den, lavatory and kitchen.

Just 9'6"x9' in measurements, the den receives an abundance of light and good ventilation through the three windows in its back wall.

The two-windowed bay in the front wall and the single window in the left wall help to make the 11'4"x11' dining room a pleasant, well-lighted room. Located in the right back corner of the room, the built-in china cabinet makes a convenient storage spot for china and glassware; have drawers built under the shelves and you'll have a conveniently located storage place for your clean table linen.

Opening directly off the dining room, the 12'x11' kitchen is larger than that found in many modern homes; it is divided into a working area and an eating area.

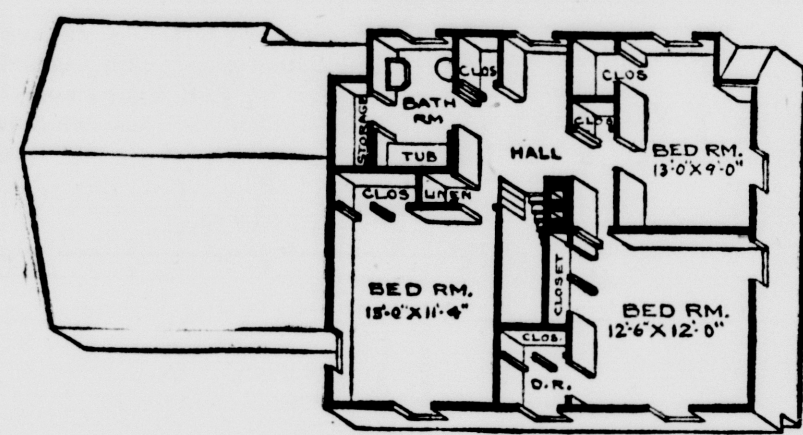

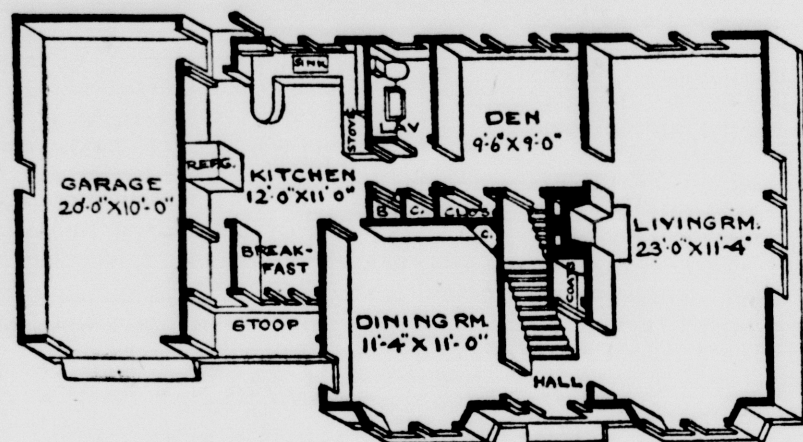

Working counters, etc., are in an L-shaped array along the back and right walls of the room. The sink is located under the double windows in the back wall; the stove is located at the right end of the line of counters. Centered in the left wall, the refrigerator is conveniently near to the stove and to the working counters.

In the back wall there is a door leading to a small stoop connecting directly with the back yard. This small stoop also provides protection when you're going to or coming from the garage.

Located in the front section of the kitchen the breakfast nook is bright and cheerful; receives plenty of light through the paneled windows looking out on the front stoop. Another door in the front wall of this room leads to the stoop and to the front yard. If you so desire, you could have a door cut in the wall separating this front stoop and the garage to provide another protected entry way to your garage.

One window in the left wall provides ample light and ventilation for the 20'x10' garage. There is plenty of room for overhead storage space as well as for a small workbench if you care to have one installed.

Three good sized bedrooms and a bath take up most of the room on the second floor of "The Barrington," where there also is a wealth of generous sized storage closets. A central hallway connects all the rooms on the second floor.

There is a large closet opening on the central hallway just before the door to the right back bedroom. This 13'x9' room also has a large closet and is well lighted by a window in the back wall and another in the right wall; these windows, located as they are on adjoining walls, also guarantee cross ventilation for this room.

Designed to serve as the master bedroom, the right front bedroom is 12'6"x12' in dimensions. This room has an unusually long closet in the left wall which can be divided in two sections to better serve the storage needs of two people.

The dressing room also contains a closet. Well lighted and ventilated by one window, this dressing area makes it easier for two to share the master bedroom as it provides a space for one to dress or undress without disturbing the other, who may be resting, or asleep.

One window in the right wall and another in the front wall of the master bedroom provide good lighting and cross ventilation.

Another large storage closet opens off the connecting hallway just to the right of the door to the bathroom.

Containing a tub as well as a shower, the bathroom is lighted and ventilated by one window in the back wall. There is a large storage area in the left wall of the bathroom.

Located on the second floor of "The Barrington" the linen closet opens on the central hall just before the door to the left front bedroom. Measuring 13'x11'4", this room is large enough to be shared by two youngsters.

HERE ARE THE OIL BURNER ANSWERS!

Some critical materials—such as copper tubing and tanks—are difficult to get, but we are stocked to the point where anyone who signs a contract now is 100% assured of an installation without any substitute materials.

It is not necessary that your oil burner be installed this month but we will set aside the necessary materials for your installation if you sign the contract now.

FHA credit terms are still available if desired—only 10% down and as long as 30 months to pay.

Our price is guaranteed. Once the contract is signed, you pay the price specified—no more! But, of course, the burner must be installed within a reasonable period of time.

The Timken Silent Automatic Wall-Flame Oil Burner is the most efficient, dependable oil burner on the market! Its wall-blanking flame turns every drop of oil into useful heat. Only one moving part (self-lubricated) assures years of trouble-free operation.

Timken Silent Automatic fuel oil savings can be proved! Users' before-and-after fuel bills give conclusive proof that Timken Silent Automatic's natural-burning Wall-Flame gives greater combustion efficiency than ordinary pressure-type oil burners. Fuel savings regularly amount to 25 per cent or more.

The Timken Silent Automatic Wall-Flame Oil Burner burns any ordinary domestic fuel oil. It operates reliably and efficiently when supplied with fuel refined by any of the commonly used processes—straight-run, thermally-cracked, and catalytically-cracked.

Cora Villemure, John A. Schmeltzer Wed At St. Ann's

Miss Cora Blanche Villemure of 923 6th Ave. S., and John A. Schmeltzer of Marquette exchanged marriage vows in a ceremony at 10 a. m. today at St. Ann's Chapel. The nuptial high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Mathias LaViolette, a nephew of the bride.

Lavender mums adorned the altar and the side railings for the service. The music of the mass was sung by St. Ann's Choir with Miss Bernadette Cossette, organist. "Ave Maria" was the offertory hymn and at the close of the mass as the bridal party was leaving the church Mrs. Lucille Rodman, a niece of the bride, sang "On This Day O Beautiful Mother." The altar boys serving the mass included William Butler Jr., a grandnephew of the bride. The other servers were David Peterson and Donald Finlan.

Blue Wool Suit

The bride wore a becoming suit of blue Forstmann wool with a pink nylon blouse, a pink hat with feather trim and blue accessories. Her flowers were a pink carnation corsage. Her niece, Mrs. G. E. Christie, who attended her, wore a mauve gabardine suit with a pink blouse and a matching hat with pink trim. Pink and lavender mums were combined in her corsage.

Bernard Schmeltzer was best man for his father.

The wedding breakfast at 12 noon at the Dells is being followed by a reception from 2 to 5 for 150 guests. Mrs. Loren Jenkins is hostess for the reception. Mrs. Phoenix Benard and Mrs. Walter Bergeon are pouring and assisting them will be Mrs. Lowell Farrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmeltzer are leaving on a wedding trip to Chicago, Milwaukee and Rockford, Ill. They also will stop at Holy Family Convent in Manitowish, Wis., to visit the bride's sister, Sister M. Felicia. They will make their home at 511 Rock St. in Marquette.

Wedding Guests

The wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Villemure of Iron Mountain, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Villemure, Newberry, Mrs. Malcolm LaCombe and Mrs. Niilo Suoni of Negaunee, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Kirschner of North Lake, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peronto, Ishpeming, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schmeltzer, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schmeltzer, Mr. and Mrs. John Murk, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Murk, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schmeltzer, Mrs. Amelia Schmeltzer, Mrs. Frank Schmeltzer, Miss Genevieve Schmeltzer, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fish, James Flannagan, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy T. Lawrence and Miss Jean Barendt of Marquette.

Ione Wikstrom, John Schwalbach Exchange Vows

A gown of satin and net in chapel length was worn by Miss Ione Wikstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wikstrom, Gladstone Rte. 1, for her marriage this morning to John Schwalbach Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schwalbach Sr., Willow Creek Road, Escanaba.

The ceremony was performed at 10 a. m. at All Saints' Church in Gladstone by Father O'Neill D'Amour.

The closely fitted bodice of the bridal gown was of satin with a yoke of sheer tulle, detailed with an applique design of satin. The full length bouffant skirt of net had the same satin applique. The bride's fingertip veil of sheer French illusion, hand rolled, was attached to a tiara of rhinestones in lacey design. Her jewelry was her mother's pearl necklace which has been in the family many years. She carried white mums centered with red roses with white satin shower ribbons.

Miss Janet Sinclair, the maid of honor, wore a chapel length gown of rose shade with a velvet bodice with a bolero and a bouffant skirt. Her bouquet was a cascade of white mums and pink pompons.

Robert Schwalbach was best man.

Both mothers wore navy blue ensembles with orchid corsages. The wedding dinner for 75 guests was served at Bell's Restaurant.

The young people after a honeymoon in Milwaukee and Chicago will live in Gladstone Rte. 1.

The bride is a graduate of Escanaba High School. Mr. Schwalbach, also an Escanaba High School graduate, attended Davis Elkins College and the Layton School of Art.

Mrs. Joseph Schwalbach of Milwaukee was among guests at the wedding.

Social-Club

Silver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. John Dagenais celebrated their silver wedding anniversary recently at a gathering of 150 relatives and friends at their home.

Lunch was served from a table centered with a four tiered wedding cake decorated by Mrs. Dagenais' brother, and a heart shaped wedding cake, a gift of a cousin, Mrs. Vernon Rousseau. Bouquets of gladioli at either end completed the decorations.

The couple was presented with many beautiful gifts including a tree of silver and a purse of silver. The evening's program included a mock wedding and singing and dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Dagenais were married Sept. 27, 1927, at St. Ann's Church in Escanaba. Their family includes five daughters and three sons, all of whom with their families, were with them for the occasion. They are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Christensen (Doris) of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Howell (Joyce), Milwaukee; Betsy, Milwaukee; Donald of Wichita, Kan.; and Kathleen, Beverly, Johnnie and Richard Lee. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lafave and Mr. and Mrs. Telford LaVigne of Iron Mountain and Mr. and Mrs. Bovee and daughter of Niagara, Wis.

Don't Overdo Business Dress

By ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor

Glamour has its place—but the office is not it. Many a competent secretary has been rejected at a job interview because she dressed as if she were attending a party rather than seeking a position.

The ideal office worker does not allow her wardrobe to overpower the surroundings. Steeplefitting, low-necked dresses may suit your social life perfectly, but they will definitely mark you as a poor business risk.

Simplicity should be the keynote to your wardrobe selections. Choose several basic colors—like brown, navy and black—and build your accessories around them.

Your shoes should also have straight, classic lines. The pump always looks neat and smart. Wear hats that subtly complement your costumes.

For best overall wearability, suits seem to be ideal. Businesslike in appearance, they can be dressed up or down with blouses, scarves and jewelry.

Give some thought to your make-up, too. Fragile, subtle tones are absolutely essential. And don't wear your hair in a complicated manner. The simpler the better.

Correct office procedure incorporates every one of these points. They are absolutely essential to your success in the business world.

Brown rice takes about twice as long as white rice does to cook. If you want to shorten its cooking time you can soak it in warm water for an hour or so before cooking.

ANOTHER STEADY—The Rev. Wilbur Westerdahl of Rockford, Ill., will conduct a special evangelistic campaign at the St. Joseph Church in Escanaba, 4th St. and 1st Ave. S., beginning Tuesday, Oct. 7, and continuing through Sunday, Oct. 12.

The evangelist, a graduate of Wheaton College, has conducted some 70 campaigns while serving parishes in Belvidere, Ill., and Minneapolis. In addition he has addressed over 70 Youth for Christ rallies, spoken at the Le-Toureau plant in Peoria, Ill., to Northern Pacific railroad crews at Brainerd, Minn., on the University of Minnesota campus and in scores of other places.

While serving an eight year term as pastor of the Camden "Evangelical Church" in Minneapolis, he taught the major subjects in Northwestern schools and conducted radio program, "From the Pastor's Study" on KTIS.

The public is invited to attend his services in Escanaba.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kane, 221 N. 14th St., are the parents of a son weighing 7 pounds and 2 ounces, born at St. Francis Hospital Oct. 3.

A daughter was born Oct. 3 at St. Francis Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carey of Wells. Deborah Ann is the name of the daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Sealander of 505 Dakota Ave., Gladstone, Oct. 3 at St. Francis Hospital. The baby weighed 7 pounds and 13 1/2 ounces.

Franklin PTA Meeting Tuesday

The first meeting of the year of the Franklin Parent Teacher unit will be held Tuesday, Oct. 7, at 7:45 p. m. in the school auditorium. The program will feature a talk by Miss Lucille Gessner on "Europe's People Today." A social hour will follow the meeting with the parents, guests of the teachers.

Guild Pot Luck Supper Monday Night

St. Rita's Circle of St. Patrick's Guild is sponsoring a pot luck supper preceding the regular monthly meeting Monday, Oct. 6. Serving will be from 6 to 7:30 p. m. A business meeting and a social with cards will follow the supper.

Forty-Hours Will Open Sunday At St. Joseph's Church

Forty-hour devotions will begin in St. Joseph Church here at a solemn high mass at 7:30 Sunday morning.

Fr. Bertin Harrington, O.F.M., assistant pastor at St. Joseph Church, will celebrate the solemn mass. Deacon will be Fr. Stephen Schneider, O.F.M., and Fr. Colman Higdon, O. F. M., also an assistant pastor at the church, will be sub-deacon.

Confessions will be heard Sunday and Monday at 3 p. m.

Mass For Peace

The Holy Hour Sunday evening will be conducted by the Very Rev. Thomas L. Noa, bishop of Marquette, who will be here for a Holy Name rally for about 1,000 members of Holy Name units in Delta and Schoolcraft counties. The Sunday evening holy hour which begins at 8 p. m. will be exclusively for men.

The Blessed Sacrament will be exposed on the main altar at 6:25 a. m., Monday and Tuesday, and Holy Communion will be distributed afterwards, at the altar of the Blessed Virgin, where mass will be celebrated Monday and Tuesday mornings.

The Sunday mass will be in honor of the Blessed Sacrament; the Monday mass at 8 a. m. will be for peace; and the Tuesday 8 a. m. mass will be the Mass of the Reposition in honor of the Blessed Sacrament.

Indulgences Gained

Fr. Matt LaViolette, pastor of All Saints Church in Gladstone, will be the speaker for the devotions beginning at 7:30 p. m., Monday. The Tuesday evening holy hour also begins at 7:30 p. m. Fr. O'Neill D'Amour, secretary of the diocesan school board, will be the speaker.

Forty-hour adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, in memory of the 40 hours during which the sacred body of Jesus was in the Sepulchre, began in Milan, Italy, about 1534 and then spread throughout Italy. It was introduced into Rome in 1551. In the United States it was first introduced in the diocese of Philadelphia by Bishop Neumann, in 1853. The devotions were approved for all dioceses of the United States by the Council of Baltimore in 1866.

Plenary indulgences on each of the three days can be gained under the usual conditions, after a visit to the church where 18 prayers are said, including three for the intention of the Holy Father. A 15-years indulgence is gained at each visit to the church, during 40-hour devotions.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. John Anthony, 1615 Third avenue south, yesterday motored to Green Bay to hear Dwight Eisenhower, GOP presidential candidate speak to about 5,000 persons from the platform of his train. "Ike" introduced Mrs. Eisenhower during his 15-minute talk, in which he urged GOP party members to become the "party of performance instead of the party of opposition." Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin was present for the Eisenhower speech in Green Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Anthony, 404 Lake Shore Drive, were among Escanabans who went to Green Bay Thursday to hear Dwight Eisenhower's campaign speech.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Beck, 307 S. 17th St., are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Champey (the former Jean Beck) of Richmond, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Langdon (the former Elaine Beck) of Minneapolis, Minn.; and Pfc. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy (formerly Jo Ann Beck) and son, Tommy, of Aberdeen, Md. They will remain here for the coming week.

Miss Viola Covey and her fiancé, Henry Dahm, have left for her home in Van Nuys, Calif., after visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Covey.

Today's Recipes

Creamed Hamburger and Green Peas

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/4 to 1/2 cup (1 small) finely chopped onion, 1/2 pound ground chuck beef, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons plus 2 teaspoons flour, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1/2 to 3/4 cup cooked drained peas.

Method: Melt butter in medium-size saucepan; cook onion in it until lightly browned. Add beef and mash with fork until crumbly and it loses its red color. Stir in well the salt, celery salt, pepper and flour. Add milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and bubbles. Stir in peas; retreat. Serve on crisp toast. Makes 4 servings.

One method of removing iron rust from white materials is to spread the stain over a pan of boiling water and then squeeze lemon juice on it. After a few minutes, rinse and repeat process. This method is slow—but safe, say Michigan State College home economists.

When you buy a saucepot, be sure to notice whether the side hand-grips are large enough to allow you to grasp them easily and hold them securely.

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES by Sue Donimus

THE vet explained why the blood transfusion didn't work on the old mare — "You can't change blood in the middle of a horse!" The noble horse comes into his own on the glasses at Eden's Gift Shop. As Pegasus he wings his way into your heart from some striking tumblers of frosted glass. One side of the glass is striped with white, the other side in black. On a fruit juice set, a sturdy little horse pulls a plow in a gay fair — fat pitcher completes the set. For horsing around at the card table, select some tall frosted glasses with cards and poker calls on the sides. Eden's glasses for the horsey set — $3 to $4.50.

THE first Adam-splitting gave us Eve — a force man has never been able to control. Blomstrom and Petersen are pretty sure that any woman will respond to a little beauty treatment from their fine selection of fall jewelry. I agreed after I looked at the glitter of the exquisite rhinestone pieces—bracelets, earrings and pins. New designs are ours to choose with unusual crest designs. Gold and silver finish jewelry features smart chokers, hold bracelets and matching earrings. Jewel tones glisten in the lovely lapel pins. Prices begin at $1.00 plus tax; no end to the effect.

TOO many kids finish college and their dad at the same time. They have a high degree of finishing at the NuWay Cleaners now. It's something new and wonderful... the Sta Nu process. You can really feel and see the difference this new surfacing makes. It actually puts back original oils into fabrics instead of drying them out as in many cleaning processes. And you get Sta Nu at no extra charge exclusively at the NuWay Cleaners. There've been some other changes made at NuWay, too. Change their phone number in your little black book to 3400. And don't forget to call soon. It's your lucky number!

THERE'S no really good substitute for brains—but silence does pretty well... I keep telling myself! Director John Ford has made a dramatic use of silence in the new technicolor production of "What Price Glory". Silent film technique is used in several spots to heighten the dramatic impact of the comedy-drama. The camera alone captures the emotional sweep in several scenes. James Cagney as Capt. Flagg, Dan Dailey as Sergeant Quirt, and Corinne Calvet as the exciting Charmaine head the New York cast. Old World War I songs are interspersed in the fast moving story. Be sure to see this new version of the timeless "What Price Glory"—starts at the Michigan Theater on Sunday.

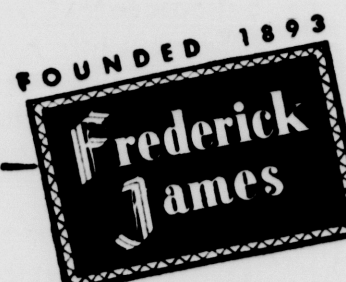

TRYING to play canasta thru a deluge of conversation the other day leads me to observe that with women a card game is a matter of mind over chatter! When the tallies and score pads come from the new Pennsylvania Dutch assortment at the Photo Art Shop, it's no wonder the girl's tongues wag. The gay designs and the clever sayings are real conversation pieces. Tallies come in two table progressive sets, or open stock. Other Pennsylvania Dutch items are a box of assorted humorous greeting cards and note paper with interesting recipes on them. Go Dutch at the Photo Art!

IT'S getting so an apple a day costs more than keeping the doctor away! That's why I'm happy to recommend ways you can save money in three rooms in your house—with Culligan Soft Water. In the laundry you'll find clothes last longer and you use much less soap. Your washing machine is at peak efficiency only with soft water. In the bathroom you can stop buying expensive shampoos and you'll find soft water itself a dandy skin beauty treatment. In the kitchen you'll actually use up to 1/3 less grounds for coffee or tea. A few pinches of soap give billowing dishwasher suds. Phone for Culligan Soft Water service today—a pretty soft way to save money!

MY new nephew is a healthy pink... and also a loud yeller. I'm delighted with the hand knit wool sweater, bonnet and bootie set I got him at the Variety Gift Shop. You can order baby things knit in any size and color you want. Right now there's a fine supply of mittens for all ages... and some of the glamorous ear muffs (half-hats) with mittens to match for the lassies. Among the beautiful hand made aprons I found some that are ideal for waitresses around town... crisp white organdy, and your choice of most any color of rick-rack trim. Try the Variety Gift Shop for a change.

WHEN his aide was asked about Churchill's preference in food, the aide replied, "Mr. Churchill's tastes are simple. He is easily pleased with the best of everything!" If you're that way about clothes—easily pleased with the best—you'll want to see the new skirts at Gartner's. Because, of course, nothing could be better than skirts tailored by Hand-macher and Pettit. Houndstooth checks, tweedy mixtures, subtle or bold plaids, smooth flannels, washable orlons... they're all there in abundance... and styled with simplicity and high style. At the bottom of a smart outfit you'll find a skirt from Gartner's!

3 In Hospital After Smashup

Three Grand Rapids people were hospitalized here following a motor mishap near Blaney Park Thursday evening.

Injured were William Herman, who suffered a broken left leg; Arden Jones, back and leg injury and Harry Pepler, lacerations on forehead.

Pepler, driver of the car, in explaining the accident, stated that he was driving about a mile west of Blaney, on U. S. 2 when a car encroaching very much on their side of the road approached them. In order to avoid a collision, he was forced to get off the paving and in doing so, lost control of the car. The car landed into the ditch, turned over and was badly wrecked. The cause of the accident never stopped.

Nadyne Reque To Be In Drama Cast At Luther College

Miss Nadyne Reque, senior at Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, was recently chosen as a member of the cast for the Campus Players first production of the year. The play, a three act comedy, is based on the novel, "Father of the Bride," by Edward Streeter. It will be presented on Oct. 23 and 24.

Miss Reque is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Reque, 631 Oak street, Manistique.

Escaper Takes Trooper's Car

JACKSON (P)—A police hunt was on for a stocky South ern Michigan Prison fugitive who forced a state policeman and his girl friend out of their car at knife point and drove off.

The trooper, 25-year-old Milton Shotnik, and his companion escaped harm. The young woman was not identified by police.

The convict who took their car about 10:30 p. m. Wednesday was believed to be Lester Gregory, 30, a trusty at the prison's Peck Farm. He walked away from the farm about an hour before Shotnik and the girl were accosted on US-12 east of here.

Shotnik, attached to the Jackson state police post, said he was giving his companion a driving lesson and they had parked for a few moments when the man in prison garb on the driver's side of the car.

"You two had better get out," Shotnik quoted him as saying. "I need this car."

He said the man brandished a weapon that looked like a paring knife or a large jackknife.

The trooper said he usually carried a gun in his glove compartment, and reached for it while the man stood beside the car, but failed to locate the weapon.

He said he and the girl got out and the man drove off.

A search was started immediately for the car, a 1950 green sedan.

Gregory, of Detroit was serving 1 1/2 to 10 years on a larceny charge.

Fire Department Plans To Check Up On Fire Hazards

The Manistique Fire Department, in its observance of Fire Prevention Week (October 5-11) will follow a custom of years and make its activities practical instead of sentimental.

Members of the department will make the rounds of all business places in the city and check up on all fire hazards. Operators of the establishments will have their attention called to fire danger spots and situations. Suggestions will be made to clear accumulations of rubbish, remove from back sheds or basements, paper, shavings or oily litter of an inflammable nature. Chimneys and furnaces as well as stove pipes will be checked and changes suggested when warranted.

Chief Elmer Boal adds that another type of hazard will also be checked. Gas tanks installed outside of houses should be on firm foundations and connections should be securely intact. Fires, he said, have been caused by neglect in this matter.

In cases where the fire risk has been permitted to get more than ordinarily serious the inspectors are authorized to insist on prompt remedies, and rechecks will follow up the orders. But suggestions have been all that was necessary in past years to get the desired results and Chief Boal believes that the same will be true this year.

He states that in the past few years Manistique has been surprisingly free from disastrous fires. There are a number of factors contributing to this happy state, he adds. But these periodic checkups, he said have done much to keep Manistique's fire loss low and fire insurance rates on a par with the best protected cities in Michigan.

"God's Loveliness" Now At Its Best

Mother Nature is kind and beneficent in many, many ways. Knowing how most of us, particularly those of us who are "this side of forty," dread the coming of winter, she has made the interlude between summer and the chill days the most glorious and awe inspiring of all the year. Who can look at a hardwood forest in full color without being grateful at being alive?

Will Speak To Service Clubs

Cooperating with the Michigan Employment Security Commission in the observance of "Employ the Physically Handicapped Week" (Oct. 5-11), six Manistique high school students have been scheduled to give talks on the subject.

Three of these young people will address the Rotary Club on Monday noon and the other three will speak before the Lion's Club on Tuesday evening. Each speaker er will stress the desirability of employing physically handicapped persons and the benefits that will accrue to all concerned. The employment security commission is assisting the speakers in providing necessary data for the talks. Each student will speak for five minutes.

As an incentive in making these talks as effective as possible, each of the speakers will be presented awards, provided by the Inland Lime & Stone Company and the Manistique Pulp & Paper Company.

TOO LATE!

The Time to Act was Yesterday!

For your own safety and peace of mind, please do the following:

- Have your home checked by firemen for possible fire hazards.
- Have an expert check your wiring.
- Keep matches out of reach of children.
- Refrain from smoking while lying down.
- Invest in adequate Fire Insurance.

Co-operate with your Fire Department during National Fire Prevention Week—and every week of the year.

REGISTRATION NOTICE

GENERAL ELECTION

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1952

To the Qualified Electors of the City of Escanaba, County of Delta, State of Michigan:

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the Michigan Election Law, I, the undersigned Clerk, will, upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter said Township, City or Village not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the Thursday next before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

NOTICE AS HEREBY GIVEN, That I will be at my office MONDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1952—LAST DAY OF THE THIRTIETH DAY PRECEDING SAID ELECTION, as provided by Sec. 3, Chapter 3, Part II, P. A. 306, 1929, and Sec. 1, Chapter 3, Part II, P. A. 1939, Act 31, P. A. 1941, Act 291, P. A. 1945 and Act 168, 1951.

From 8 o'clock a. m. until 8 o'clock p. m. on the day of registration, I will be at my office, and I will receive the names of the qualified electors in said TOWNSHIP, CITY or VILLAGE AS SHALL PROPERLY APPLY therefor.

The name of no person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

Elector Unable To Make Personal Application, Procedure

Sec. 16. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City or Village in which his legal residence is located, may be registered by the clerk of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence, duplicate registration cards and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oaths, and presenting such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

Unregistered Persons Not Entitled To Vote

Sec. 1. The inspectors of election at any election or primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City or Village thereof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the precinct in which he offers to vote. As provided under Act 168, P. A. 1951.)

Transfer of Registration:

Application.

Sec. 19. Any registered elector may upon change of residence within the Township, City or Village cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request, stating his present address, the name and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in proper precinct file. Such transfers shall not be made within the (30) days next preceding any election or primary election. Unless such 30-day shall fall on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday in which event registration shall be accepted during the next full working day, provided that no such transfer shall permit any person to vote in any Township, City or Village in which he had not resided (30) days next preceding any election or primary election.

Muskegon Wins Third Straight Grid Clash

(By The Associated Press)
A pair of recovered fumbles pushed Muskegon's Big Reds, unbeaten last year, to their third straight victory of the 1952 Michigan High School football season Friday night.

Ann Arbor, Grand Rapids Catholic Central, Alpena, Holland and Royal Oak, also scored important victories.

Muskegon, which won its first two games by one point on fourth period scores, edged previously unbeaten Grand Haven, 12-6, on two second period touchdowns.

Tackle Tom Collins grabbed a Grand Haven fumble and raced 42 yards for a touchdown. Later Muskegon recovered a fumble on the Grand Haven 17, and on the next play, quarterback Harry Voss passed to halfback Leland David for the touchdown.

Ann Arbor's precision machine crushed Ferndale, 40-0. The Pioneers have averaged 35.3 points a game in their three wins.

In the big cross-state game, Grand Rapids Catholic Central, unbeaten last year, toppled Saginaw Arthur Hill, 19-7. It was Catholic's second straight victory after an opening upset defeat by Muskegon Heights.

Favor Stanford Over Michigan

PALO ALTO (AP)—Stanford's Indians pit their passing circus against Michigan's ground-eating Wolverines today.

Some 50,000 are expected in Stanford Stadium and millions will view the encounter on a coast-to-coast television hookup.

Game time is 5 p. m. (EST). Local oddsmakers have tabbed Stanford a scant one-point favorite, despite the fact Michigan threw a scare into Michigan State before losing 27-13 last Saturday. Michigan State is rated the No. 1 U. S. college team in the Associated Press Poll.

Stanford's offense is geared to the accurate passing arm of Bob Garrett, a junior quarterback who already has pitched the Indians to victories over Santa Clara and Washington State.

The Indians' ground attack rests mainly on the giant shoulders of 200-pound Bob Mathias, twice national decathlon champion, who works out of the back slot in coach Chuck Taylor's "T" formation, slams the line with the speed and drive that repelled the decathlon crowns.

The invaders from the Big Ten are coming for revenge from last year's 23-13 defeat at the hands of the Indians.

Manager Charley Grimm of the Boston Braves broke in as an out-fielder with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1916.

There were two surprises. Holland edged Muskegon Heights, 7-6, in a battle of the unbeaten. Alpena ran up a 41-13 score over Bay City Central in a game that had rated as a toss-up. Both teams were unbeaten before Friday night.

Scores of other leading games: Royal Oak 32, Grosse Pointe 27; Lincoln Park 33, Dearborn 0; and Battle Creek 3, Ypsilanti 0.

Champ Takes On Graham Tonight

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—A record crowd will see Cuba's Kid Gavilan, the champion, meet New York's Billy Graham here tonight.

"This time I'm sure I can stop him and drop him," said Graham. "I want no doubts this time." He was referring to split decisions which gave Gavilan the decisions in two of their three previous fights. One of them in New York Aug. 29, 1951, was for the title "and I won that one," Graham said. Many boxing writers agreed.

A Cuban judge and a Cuban referee are to be named sometime before the fight. The third official will be Nat Fleischer, of New York.

The government sports department, promoters of the bout, said about $60,000 will be in the till, and 42,000 fans in Havana's Gran Stadium, when the big show starts at 10 p. m. EST.

The spindly-legged Gavilan says "this is one fight I just can't lose. My country has given me this opportunity. I can not fail my people."

Gavilan has the speed of a cat, is four years younger than Graham, who is 30, and is a fast, flailing fighter.

Joe Black Pitches Again Today

Dodgers Take Series Lead

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It appears to be unsafe to write the Dodgers out of this World Series.

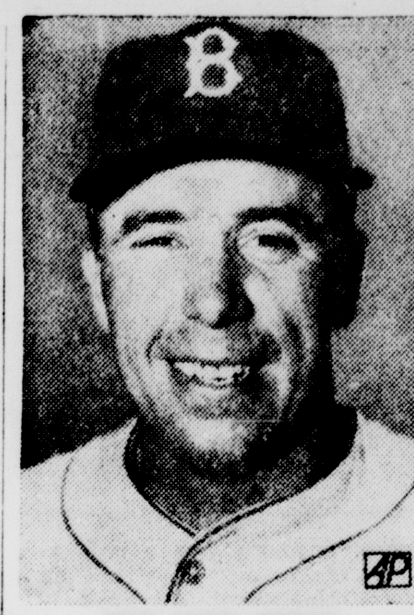

Going into today's fourth game at the stadium holding a 2-1 lead and with their magnificent rookie, Joe Black, ready to give it another whirl, the National Leaguers were back in the driver's seat, fully recovered from the severe trouncing the Yankees gave them in the second contest.

Serious doubts were expressed that the Dodgers would heal in time to get back in the play-off. They answered that one in full as they slugged easy Ed Lopat from the hill in yesterday's fine 5-3 comeback. Again they looked like a great ball club in every respect, and it was the Bombers' turn to look a good deal less than terrific.

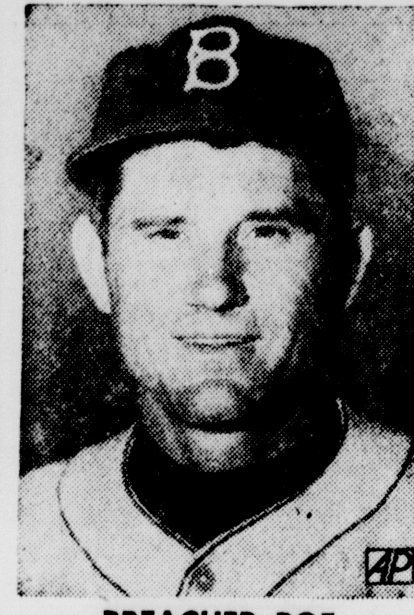

Reese Brilliant

Pee Wee Reese showed the huge throng of over 66,000 why the National League considers him to be as brilliant a shortstop as there is in the business. The old geezer, Elwin (Preacher) Roe, showed them pitching class in the pinches which they will remember. It was quite an exhibition.

In throwing Black back at Casey Stengel's crew instead of saving him for relief duty the rest of the way, as he had originally planned, Dodger Manager Charlie Dressen again proves that he has the heart of a born gambler. But he was taking a mighty shrewd gamble. Should the big youngster beat Alie Reynolds again and make it

PEE WEE REESE

PREACHER ROE

3-1 in victories the Dodgers would become overwhelming favorites to win their first world championship.

Stengel had no choice but to hand the ball to Reynolds, his only 20-game winner, and hope that the Chief would have a better game in his system than he had in losing the opener.

Not Unusual

The Yankees know now that they have a good ball team out there against them, and it would be less than surprising if some of their customary confidence was missing after yesterday's depressing experience. It is not often that the Yanks get licked on a passed ball. Usually they count on such things happening to be other club.

Not only did the low pitch which got through Yogi Berra let in the two deciding runs in the top of the ninth, but it bunged Yogi up to where he is certain to be much less than his usually effective self for the balance of the series, if indeed, he is able to play at all. For some reason known only to himself, the Yank backstop always catches with the index finger of his left hand sticking out of the glove. That was the digit which got split on the play, and he was wearing a bulky bandage on it last night. He said it was "hurting terrible."

Was It Wild?

There is considerable argument whether Yogi should have been charged with a passed ball. Many observers, including this one, thought that young Tom Gorman, who had just relieved Lopat, cut loose a wild pitch, but the official scorers saw it otherwise. Whichever it was, Berra looked like a fellow playing blind man's buff as he searched the premises for the pellet while Reese and Jackie Robinson came tearing across the plate. Of course, Andy Pafko followed with a single to right field which would have scored them anyhow, but no one will ever know whether he would have made the hit if the wild goings-on had not unsettled Gorman.

Reese played himself a tremendous game. The old marble champion from Louisville sparked the Dodger offense with his three hits, one of them a perfect bunt which set up his team's first run.

Lopat's failure to puzzle the National Leaguers only served to prove once again that they eat up southpaws. They murdered them all season, and one may feel quite certain that Stengel will not show them another in the current series.

Lions Cop Tough 17-14 Win Over Los Angeles

By PETE ARTHUR

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Detroit's Lions are a sure factor in this year's National League Football race. What may surprise a lot of folks today is that the Los Angeles Rams are, too.

The Rams lost a 17-14 thriller to Detroit last night, but those who expected them to fold up—and there were a good many in this critical football town—got quite an awakening. It was a tough, spirited team, for the first time in five losing games.

The game attracted 42,743, about 10,000 more than expected, and they saw the outplayed Rams in an uphill battle throughout. It was decided, as it turned out, by a 13-yard field goal from the toe of Doak Walker.

Under-Rated

Detroit, beaten last week by San Francisco, came here with no one giving the Rams much of a chance. The world champions had floundered badly in their last three exhibition games and a week ago got a thorough 37-7 drubbing from Cleveland.

Reports of dissension, both among coaches and players, were climaxed Tuesday by the departure of Joe Stydahar as head coach and his replacement by backfield tutor Hampton Pool. Lots of Ram supporters felt that Stydahar, who coached two division winners in two years, got the undeserved business. They waited to see what the Rams would do for Pool.

They didn't have long to wait. From the time Tank Younger broke through to smear Detroit's Pat Harder for a seven-yard loss on the first running play, the Rams hit and tackled hard. The offense was handicapped by injuries to the two star ends, Tommy Fears and Elroy Hirsch, which kept them sidelined most of the game.

Two TD Passes

Even so, Detroit had a time. The Lions went ahead 14-0 in the second quarter on two scoring passes from Bobby Layne to end Cloyce Box, one for six yards, another for 18.

The Rams drove back before the half ended, 80 yards in eight plays, with Younger going the last 20 yards to make the score 14-7. The Lions marched 48 yards to the Rams' four in the third period and Walker kicked his field goal. That made it 17-7.

But the Rams weren't through. A great loss from Norm Van Brocklin to rookie halfback Skeet Quinlan went for 80 yards and a tally.

There was no question of Detroit's superiority. The Lions netted 166 yards on the ground to the Rams' 39 and 195 in the air to 157—totals of 361 to 196. Twenty-two Detroit first downs doubled the best the Rams could do.

QUESTION: The home team is at bat with one out and a runner on first base. The count is three and two on the batter. The batter misses the next pitch, but catcher drops the ball and the batter races for first. The catcher's throw is wild, bounding into right field, the batter continuing to second. The first runner is thrown out on a relay to third. The defensive team argues he is the third out. Right or wrong?—Bill McCormick.

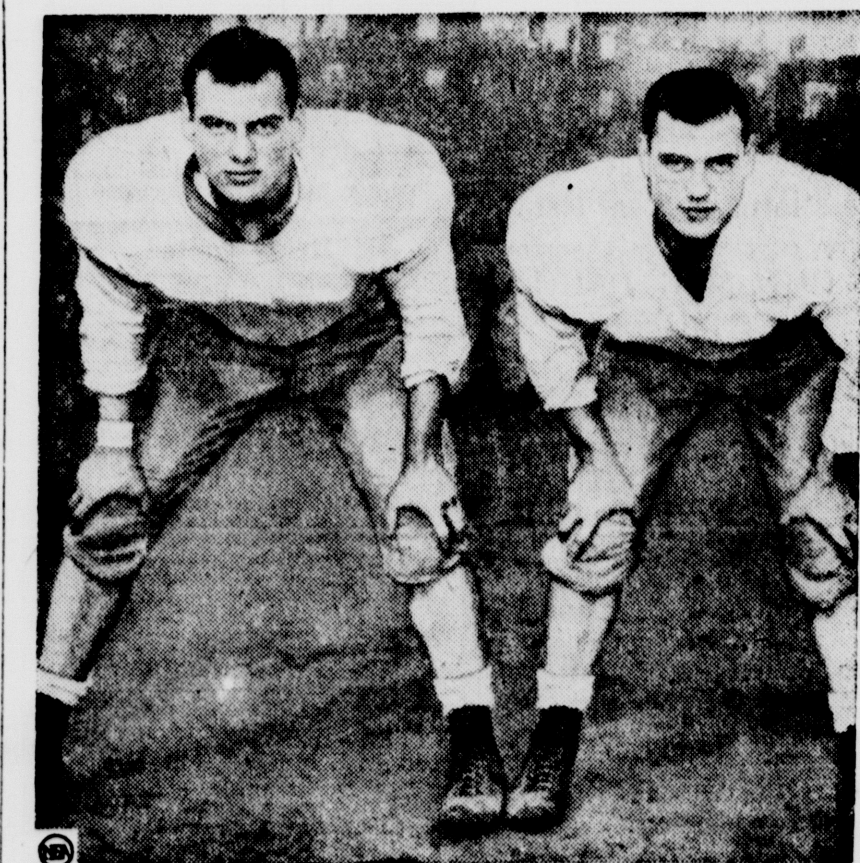

ANSWER: Right. The batter was automatically out before he left the plate. When, with less than two out and with first base occupied, a batter misses a third strike, he is out. So the first base runner in this case was the final out when caught at third.

Q. How many games were won by each club in the 1951 series between the Yankees and Red Sox? Also, how does Bobby Shantz' pitching record this year compare with 1951?—Bernard J. Miller.

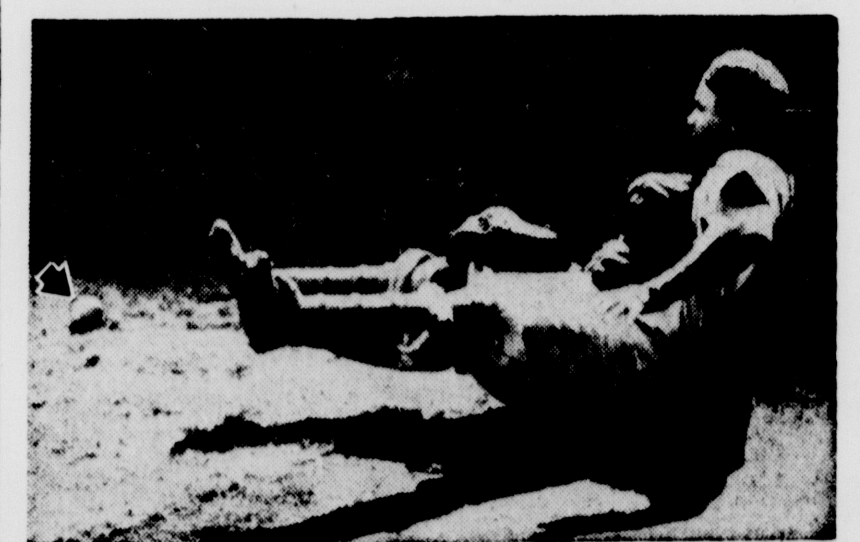

A. (1) The New York and Boston American League clubs split, winning 11 games apiece. The Yanks had a 2-9 record in Boston, the Sox a 2-9 mark in New York. (2) The little Athletics' southpaw won 18 last season, was the first to win 20 this trip.

Q. Who's the senior member of the National League's umpiring staff?

A. Bill Stewart. Bill has been calling 'em for 19 years, worked four World Series. The veteran was struck on the right side in 1951 by a foul tip off Eddie Stanky's bat, and for the first time in his long career forced to quit a game because of injury. He worked with a broken wrist, broken toe and two broken fingers.

Young Girl Bow And Arrow Champ Will Try For Deer

WYANDOTTE, Mich. (AP)—Blonde Ann Marston, pretty 14-year-old princess of the nation's archers, has mastered everything she ever tried with a bow and arrow—except shooting deer.

And now that the Michigan hunting season is on, the Wyandotte high school freshman is going to try that in northern Michigan.

The part-time sub-teen fashion model won the national intermediate target championship at Jackson recently and broke 10 records. In Minnesota she captured the national field title and bettered every record in her class.

Last year she again applied for a license. She was turned down. An official said too many license requests had come from sub-age boys and girls.

So Ann waited until she became 14 this year. Starting this week-end she and her parents—Frank and Florence Marston—were going hunting in Northern Michigan, much of the time near Mio.

Ann hopes to spend a whole week up there and hopes to come back with her first deer.

Seven players on the Kansas City Blues were named to the annual American Association All-Star team.

End Buck Martin paced the 1951 Georgia Tech football team in pass receiving with 37 caught for 506 yards, and in scoring with 9 touchdowns.

Hialeah race track has stepped up its purses to $1,800,000 for this winter's meeting. This is an increase of $300,000 over last year's figures.

Massachusetts and New York each have 18 representatives on the Brandeis University football squad this season.

Syracuse University, ready to start its 64th gridiron season, has never had an undefeated season.

Two Favorites In Gold Cup Feature

NEW YORK (AP)—The two miles of the $75,000 added Jockey Club Gold Cup at Belmont Park today figures to go a long way toward deciding Horse of the Year honors since two of the outstanding candidates are entered in the rich race.

The two are Mark-Ye-Well, a three-year old from the Calumet Farm, and the Chafarin Stable's Crafty Admiral, top performer in the handicapped division.

They figure to be the one-two choice with Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' One Count, winner of the Belmont Stakes and Travers, right at their heels on the tote board in third place.

Brooklyn's Series Chances Glitter After 5-3 Victory

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
NEW YORK (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers' hopes of capturing their first world's championship took on an aura of great expectations as a result of the team's glittering 5-3 victory over the New York Yankees in the third game of the series.

Brooklyn Manager Charley Dressen, elated in the dressing room after yesterday's game that gave the Dodgers a 2 to 1 advantage in the fall classic, praised Preacher

Roe's pitching performance but admitted "base running won for us."

Dressen, of course, was referring to the daring double steal by Pee Wee Reese and Jackie Robinson in the ninth inning that enabled the pair to move into second and third where they would both be in scoring position.

Margin of Victory

A moment later both runners crossed the plate when one of relief pitcher Tom Gorman's serves glanced off Yankee catcher Yogi Berra's left forefinger for a passed ball and rolled toward the stands. As it turned out, these runs proved to be the margin of victory.

Brooklyn is "out to shoot the works" as Dressen plans to come back with bullpen artist, Joe Black, who subdued the Yanks, 4-2, in the opener Wednesday.

"We believe in getting there first with the biggest, if possible," Dressen said. "Black is strong and willing. We feel we can win with him again and come back with Carl Erskine."

Chances Dimmer

The Yankees appeared disconsolate in their dressing room as chances for their fourth straight victory in the World Series grew dimmer.

The crest-fallen Berra, displaying a badly swollen forefinger on his left hand that bled at the fingernail, took the blame himself for the pitch that had eluded him in the ninth inning.

He was dazed and confused by the sudden pain and just stood frozen in his tracks while Reese and Robinson scampered home. It was disclosed that Berra had suffered a split finger.

"I did it myself, it's my fault," muttered the stocky catcher when Manager Casey Stengel suggested that Gorman might have thrown a pitch that Berra was not expecting. "It wasn't any cross-up. I knew what was coming."

Gives Them Credit

Stengel, who plans to come back with his ace, Allie Reynolds simply admitted that the Dodgers outplayed the Bombers.

"In the long run they played the best game. They won it themselves," he added.

The Yankee skipper said that if Berra couldn't play today, he'd use Charley Silvera.

Losing pitcher Ed Lopat disclosed that he threw everything he had—sliders, curves and screw balls, but "I was missing with my slider. I wasn't as sharp as I should be."

The Yanks were mystified at Preacher Roe's stuff. The crafty southpaw, although shaky at times, was effective in the pinches.

Asked what Roe had, Mickey Mantle, who failed to connect safely after collecting five hits in the first two games, answered, "Dunno, but he sure must have had something."

P-Day For Top College Gridiron Teams Today

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Today not only presents the first full-scale program of the college football season, but it also is "P"—Produce Day—for some of the top teams.

Michigan State, the No. 1 team in the country in the first Associated Press poll of sports writers, plays Oregon State, and Coach Biggie Munn is hoping his boys show better than last year.

The 1951 game wound up with the Spartans barely eking out a 6-0 triumph. The form chart says Michigan State should win with touchdowns to spare.

Illinois, No. 2 and the logical Big 10 champion, gets down to business against Wisconsin. The Illini can't make another trip to the Rose Bowl this year, but the Badgers are very much eligible.

Eye Rose Bowl

If Wisconsin can get past Illinois, the Badgers probably will wind up playing in Pasadena, Calif., on New Year's Day. But even if Illinois wins it, Wisconsin still could make the trip if it puts up a good showing the rest of the season.

Maryland's No. 3 aggregation plays Clemson in a battle of outcasts. Both are under suspension from the Southern Conference for breaking league rules. The Terps will have to put on a good show to maintain their position since they've looked like anything but a championship out fit in their first two games.

The Southwest will have a full schedule of interconference games. Yet the No. 1 clash from the loop standpoint will pit defending champion Texas Christian against Arkansas. TCU has lost two games already and has yet to score a point.

Texas-Irish

But neither were conference frays and the suspicion is that the Frogs will be rough among their own brothers.

Texas, the heir apparent to the title, plays Notre Dame while Southern Methodist is host to Georgia Tech, perhaps the top team in the Southland. Texas A & M entertains Kentucky; Baylor meets Washington State and Rice clashes with Louisiana State.

In the Big Seven, Kansas, which has high hopes of winning the Big Seven title from Oklahoma, plays Colorado. Oklahoma goes against Pitt and Nebraska, another threat for the title if Bobby Reynolds stays in condition, tackles Iowa State.

Gophers Home

California, the favorite for the Pacific Coast Conference title, visits Minnesota for a non-league tussle. Southern California, which is thinking—probably wishfully—of beating out California, should handle Army with ease.

Another inter-conference clash will pit Michigan of the Big 10 against Stanford of the PCC. This will be the television game of the week on the NCAA program. It is scheduled over NBC at 4:45 p. m., EST.

Penn., which could win the Ivy League title if Princeton wavers, meets Dartmouth, while the Tigers will try to make it 24 games in a row without defeat by whipping Rutgers.

Was Yogi Berra Guilty Of Colossal Blunder?

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—What happened?

Was Yogi Berra guilty of one of the most colossal blunders ever perpetrated in World Series history?

Or was the squat catcher crossed up by bespectacled Tom Gorman, the freshman pitcher of the New York Yankees?

The issue was still in the air today as newspapermen, players and baseball officials continued to discuss the controversial play that resulted in Brooklyn's 5-3 victory over the Yankees yesterday giving the Dodgers a 2-1 edge in the series.

Two Cross Plate

Berra, New York's slugging all-star receiver, joined the exclusive group of World Series "goats" when he failed to chase a passed ball in the ninth inning while two Dodgers dashed madly home as he stood, stunned, at the plate. Those tallies proved to be the winning ones.

Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees doubted that Gorman threw what Berra had called for. "I think maybe that guy (Gorman) crossed him (Berra) up," said Stengel. "He (Berra) called for a fast ball. Maybe he (Gorman) threw him a curve. I wouldn't know."

Berra, however, stoutly defended his young pitching mate. "I called for a fast ball and got it," he declared. "It was my fault that it got away. I knew what was coming."

Finger Smashed

Berra displayed the index finger of his left hand which was struck by the pitch. Berra always catches with the left forefinger outside the glove. It was bleeding profusely even though it had been dipped in iodine. The tip of the finger was split and the nail torn.

"The pitch hit the tip of the mitt and smashed the finger," Berra said, wiping the blood off the wound. "There was such sharp pain, for a moment I was stunned. I remember turning to Goetz (plate umpire Larry Goetz) and saying to him, 'Where the hell is the ball, Larry? Where is it?'"

"It hit me in the leg," he told me. "I didn't even see that."

It Really Sank

Gorman, a very glum young man, told just about the same story after he finally got around to talking with the waiting reporters. It was explained that Gorman "felt very much ashamed" and had to be coaxed to speak to the press.

"He (Berra) asked for a fast ball and that's what I threw," the young graduate from Kansas City said. "At least that's what I intended to throw."

"My fast ball has a tendency to sink. This one really sank good. Poor Yogi, he got three of the Yankees' six hits. He hammered a home run. But he undoubtedly will join the illustrious group of catchers who have become World Series goats."

The most famous of all catcher "boners" was the third strike muff by Mickey Owen of the Dodgers on Tommy Henrich of the Yankees with Brooklyn only one out away from victory. Henrich reached first base and the Yankees went on to win the game and ultimately the 1941 World Series.

Polio Count In U. P. Hits 122

Upper Michigan's poliomyelitis case load today stood at 122, the highest for any year since the epidemic year of 1940, when there were 155 cases.

New polio patients admitted to St. Luke's Hospital include a 14-month-old Negaunee boy, a three-year-old Rapid River boy, a six-year-old Hancock girl and a 12-year-old Ironwood girl.

The Negaunee case increased Marquette County's total for the year to 16, which compares with three at this time last year, when the U. P. total was 33.

31 County Cases

There were 31 polio cases in Marquette County in 1940 but only four in 1949, when the year's total was 105.

Delta County, which leads in polio cases with 40, had 12 in 1940 and 1949.

Figures released by the Marquette office of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis on the number of polio cases in the U. P. to date this year, at this time last year, and for the entire year of 1940, follow:

| County | This Oct. | Year 1951 | 1940 |
|-------------|-----------|-----------|------|
| Alger | 1 | 0 | 13 |
| Baraga | 1 | 0 | 6 |
| Chippewa | 18 | 8 | 9 |
| *Delta | 40 | 4 | 12 |
| Dickinson | 4 | 1 | 3 |
| Gogebic | 4 | 0 | 10 |
| Houghton | 10 | 6 | 3 |
| Iron | 4 | 0 | 12 |
| Keweenaw | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Luce | 3 | 1 | 37 |
| Mackinac | 0 | 2 | 9 |
| Marquette | 16 | 3 | 31 |
| Menominee | 11 | 6 | 4 |
| Ontonagon | 6 | 1 | 2 |
| Schoolcraft | 4 | 1 | 4 |

Totals.....122 33 155

Non-Peninsula resident cases included in the above totals are: Marquette, three, and Alger, Chippewa, Dickinson and Houghton, one each.

Deaths from polio this year: Delta, two, and Chippewa, Menominee and Ontonagon Counties, one each.

(The brother and sister stricken with polio from Ontonagon County are from Bergland. It was incorrectly stated in a previous story that they are from Ontonagon.)

*Delta County actually has 47 cases but seven were treated here and were not taken to Marquette.

Third Pennsylvania Bus Mishap Kills 4; 13 Others Injured

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—Four Greyhound bus passengers were killed and 13 others injured today in western Pennsylvania's third disastrous bus crash in 18 days.

The bus, through from New York to Chicago, collided with a steel-laden tractor-trailer on the Pennsylvania Turnpike eight miles west of Somerset.

Both vehicles were going west. They were hurled from the highway. One side of the bus was ripped out.

All passengers on the bus, as well as its driver, were injured. The truck driver was unhurt.

The injured included Cecil Jones of Pontiac, Mich., a soldier stationed at Camp Kilmer, N. J., and Mrs. Sarah Letter of Detroit.

On Sept. 17, a freight train struck a school bus at Collinsburg, killing four pupils and injuring 47. Two women died and 29 persons were injured Sept. 18 in a Greyhound bus crash on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Maguire was sentenced July 28 to life for robbery armed. He was transferred to the Brighton camp last January.

Bank On Program Of Democrats, Is Plea To Farmers

home grounds, jabbing at Eisenhower as embracing Taft and Old Guard isolationists, and telling the people the Democratic party is the one that understands their needs.

Crowds Smaller

The crowds that saw the Illinois governor in Ohio were considerably less in numbers and enthusiasm than those which welcomed Eisenhower to the Buckeye State two weeks ago.

That was the case both in Cincinnati, Taft's home town, and in Columbus, where Taft and Stevenson were speaking almost simultaneously in halls a quarter of a mile apart.

Taft said election of Stevenson would mean "a continuation of the wavering, unstable, pro-Communist philosophy that has almost brought this country to destruction."

Stevenson said Taft is "the unscrupulous boss of the Republican party"—a throw-back to his contention that Eisenhower now has surrendered to the policies of the man he beat out for the GOP nomination.

Socialism Denied

And where Taft had said Thursday night in Cleveland that the nation might go so far toward socialism under the Democrats that it couldn't turn back, Stevenson told his Columbus audience that year after year social advances sponsored by the Democrats have met with shouts of "socialism."

He was talking, the Illinois governor said, about family problems: "Such things as seeing to it that children are fed and educated, that there are hospital beds for those who are sick, that there is dignity for those who have done a life's work, and that the scars of slums are removed from America."

At the same time, he urged expansion of the social security system—something Eisenhower has recommended, too—to cover more workers, increased benefits as living costs go up, more federal aid for education.

Incomes Improved

Stevenson took the never-had-it-so-good theme of his Columbus address and applied it to conditions on the farm in the Fort Dodge speech.

While Republicans are talking time for a change, Stevenson said, the Democrats already have brought about real changes for the farmer. The Democratic candidate declared:

"I call this change: when the farmer's income increases four times over what it was 20 years ago. That is what has happened—and in terms of what a bushel of corn or 100 pounds of pork will buy. In dollars, the increase has been 10-fold.

"You see the results around you every day. Finer houses, greater comfort, more freedom to read and travel, a more secure and a better life."

Against that, he ticked off what he said was the GOP record on farm legislation in Congress from 1933 through last year—on such things as the Agricultural Adjustment Act, soil conservation, price supports, parity payments, crop insurance, rural telephones and electricity, perishable products.

And the Republican votes as he listed them were from 2 to 1 to 40 to 1 against these programs.

Reds Reshuffle Proposal For Peace In Asia With Great Fanfare

By WILLIAM JORDEN

TOKYO (AP)—The Communists with much fanfare today unveiled a five-point plan for Asian peace but it appeared nothing more than a reshuffle of Red proposals made frequently in the past two years.

The Red plan was introduced before delegates from 40 countries attending the Asian and Pacific Peace Conference in Red China's capital of Peiping.

Peiping radio, monitored in Tokyo, devoted its attention almost exclusively to the platform with which the Reds obviously hope to win sympathy in Asia.

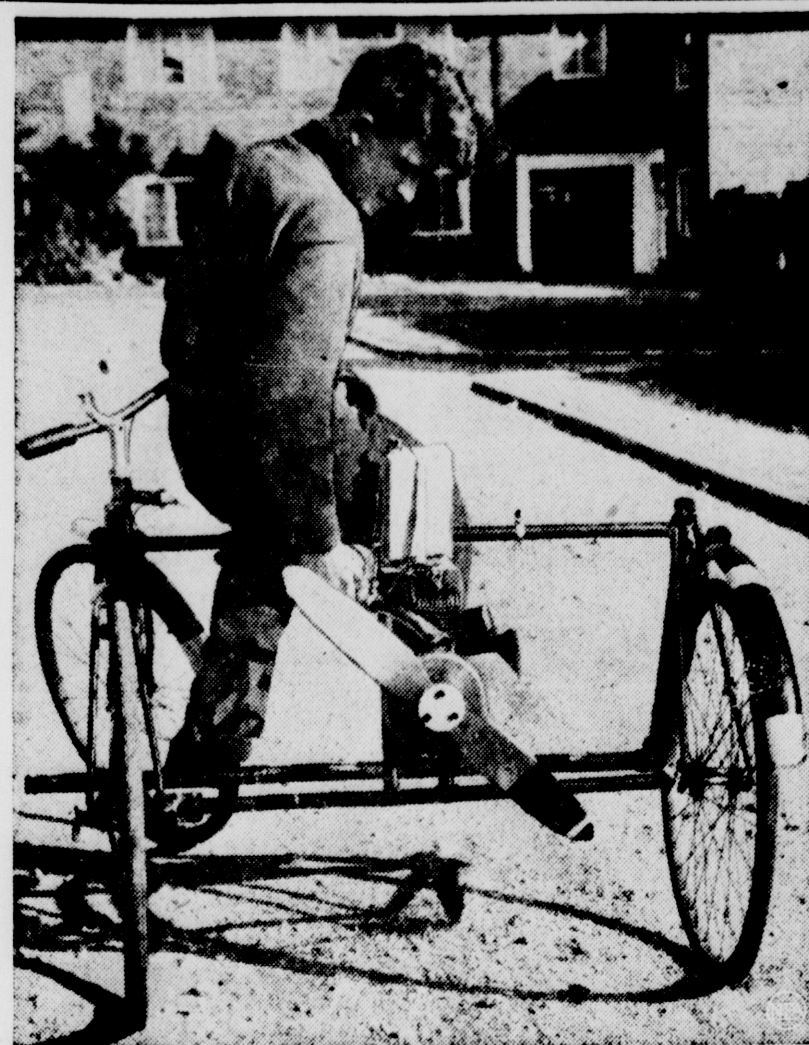

Its main features were a call for an end to the Korean War—on Communist terms; and a five-power peace pact between the U. S., Britain, France, Soviet Russia and Red China for promoting international disarmament.

Support Of Private Merchant Marine Is Eisenhower Promise

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hugh Gallagher, president of the Propeller Club of the United States, says Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has assured him of his support of a privately-operated merchant marine.

Gallagher, New York shipping executive, received a telegram from the GOP presidential candidate saying he considers the merchant marine to be "our fourth arm of defense and vital to the stability and expansion of our foreign trade."

"We were caught flat-footed in both world wars because we relied too much upon foreign-owned and operated shipping to carry our cargoes abroad and to bring critically needed supplies to this country," the Eisenhower telegram said.

JUST BREEZES ALONG—In Southampton, England, Malcolm Reece tries out the odd aero-cycle he invented. It's a tricycle, driven by a miniature airplane propeller powered by a 98 c.c. two-stroke engine. The contraption has a speed of about 30 miles an hour.

Both Presidential Candidates In Pink, Physicians Report

CHICAGO (AP)—Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, their physicians said today, are in good health.

The physical condition of the Republican and Democratic presidential nominees was described by the physicians in reply to a series of questions about their medical records. The questions were submitted by a national magazine and NEA service.

Golf And Tennis

Dr. Emmet F. Pearson of Springfield, Ill., Stevenson's physician, said the governor is in sound health and enjoys "excellent nervous and emotional stability."

He said regular checkups have revealed no chronic ailments.

Eisenhower's physician, who was not identified, reported the 61-year-old general was in "good health."

The replies by the physicians disclosed both presidential candidates have to watch their diet because of a tendency of overweight.

Dr. Pearson said that Stevenson, who is 52 and weighs 185 pounds, keeps from becoming overweight by voluntarily restricting fattening foods in his diet. Since he was 25, Stevenson has gained about 15 pounds.

Eisenhower's physician reported that the general has an excellent appetite but watches his diet.

Eisenhower's favorite outdoor recreation is golf.

Stevenson plays tennis. Dr. Pearson says the governor is "physically fit to play several sets of tennis without strain."

In some specific answers given about Eisenhower, his physician said: "No abnormalities are noted in his heart or chest. He has no allergies and no serious deviations from normal in blood chemistry and urinalysis."

Ike Far-Sighted

"He wears glasses to correct far sightedness. His hearing and teeth are good. He had the usual childhood diseases but no serious ailments in recent years."

Dr. Pearson said Stevenson underwent an operation last June for a kidney stone extraction but there have been no recurring symptoms.

Stevenson, Dr. Pearson says, is "very fond" of salads, vegetables, fruits and milk. He eats meats "about once daily, limits butter, fried foods, pastries. Usual caloric consumption estimated at 1,700 calories."

who "has always been a friend of mine and always will be."

As Truman talked, a heckler wanted to know, "who writes your speeches," but the President gave no evidence he heard him.

The speech writing, incidentally, is being done by a crew under the direction of a former North Carolina part-time mail clerk, Charles S. Murphy, and a team of researchers with a bag full of material they want Truman to throw at Eisenhower next week in his "I like Ike—but" onslaught.

Missing Ford Guard Turns Up In Decatur

DETROIT (AP)—A Ford Motor Co. plant protection guard, who disappeared mysteriously Thursday night, turned up yesterday at the home of his mother in Decatur, Ill.

He is Jesse R. Clament, 33, of Royal Oak. Decatur physicians said he was suffering from a nervous breakdown. Members of his family reported he had been worrying constantly about a son, Terry, 10, who is a polio patient in a Pontiac hospital.

Clament was located at the home of Mrs. Gordon Clark, his mother, in Decatur. Previously he had wired her from Hammond, Ind.

Clament disappeared after a 9 p. m. inspection round Thursday. His car was found near a parking lot, the motor running. His cap was on the ground nearby. At first it was thought he might have been the victim of an attack.

Jeep Falls 1000 Feet

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—A jeep turned over and tumbled a thousand feet down a hillside near here yesterday killing three persons and injuring 13.

Shortly afterwards on the same hillside, two workmen were killed and one injured by a landslide that buried them in a lime deposit.

Administration Is In Fog Over Reds, Eisenhower Says

on everything." The crowd laughed.

He went on to attack the administration which he said "believes in a war prosperity."

Then talking of this prosperity and the casualties in Korea, he said: "How can you separate the jobs from the bodies? It can't be done."

Don't Always Agree

McCarthy was interrupted at one point by boos and then a fight broke out between two youths in the rear of the arena.

"I don't let a few trouble makers bother me," McCarthy commented, and he went on with his address.

Eisenhower made it clear during a day of whistle stopping in McCarthy's home state that he didn't agree with the methods McCarthy has used in his anti-Communist campaign although he was supporting him for re-election.

McCarthy's enemies have accused him of using "smear" tactics in his campaign which has made him one of the most bitterly controversial figures in American politics.

Eisenhower has deplored such tactics and said Communists can be rooted from the government without tainting the names of innocent people.

Red Herring Recalled

"We have the right to call a spade a spade," Eisenhower said. "That means, in every proved case, the right to call a Red a Red. The time is past when we can hide our heads in the sands of stubborn ignorance or spend our days in the leisurely indulgence of abstract argument."

He referred to the "red herring" statement by President Truman in the case of Alger Hiss, the former State Department official convicted of perjury after denying he gave government secrets to a Red spy ring.

Eisenhower said: "There are those who cheered the blithe dismissal of the Alger Hiss case as a 'red herring.'"

And then he referred to a Stevenson speech on communism, saying "an administration servant grandly declared" Communists in government were "not very important" and too much time should not be wasted "chasing phantoms."

Stories Not Funny

Eisenhower said: "Do you think these fish stories, ghost stories and animal stories are really very amusing? Such comedy touches do little to relieve the tragic knowledge that we have been for years the gullible victims of Communist espionage agents."

"These experts in treason have plundered us of secrets involving our highest diplomatic decisions, our atomic research. Tragically, we do not know how much more our security may have been jeopardized."

He added: "This, I repeat, has been a calamity of immeasurable consequence," and to minimize it "is criminal folly."

Then he said: "You can never cure malignant growth just by a hearty bedside manner."

Eisenhower had said earlier there were "some among us who argued cunningly" for the idea that democracy and communism both believed in freedom.

It Means Treason

He said this idea insinuated itself into schools, public forums, labor unions and government.

"What did this penetration into government mean?" he said. "It meant contamination in some degree of virtually every department, every agency, every bureau, every section of government. It meant a government by men whose very brains were confused by the opiate of this deceit."

He named these men as the advisers who formed American foreign policy. And he added: "This penetration meant a domestic policy whose tone was set by men who sneered and scoffed at warnings of the enemy infiltrating our most secret counsels."

"It meant—in its most ugly triumph—treason itself."

Stevenson Talk Picked Apart By Taft In Columbus

munist philosophy that has almost brought this country to destruction."

Crowd Jams Hall

To a crowd of party officials and workers jammed into the ballroom of the Neil House, Taft snapped: "Mr. Stevenson has no remedy for the Korean War," and then said: "Gen. Dwight Eisenhower"

GOP presidential nominee said that in his opinion we should arm the South Koreans as rapidly as possible and when they are in a condition to defend themselves we should withdraw American troops. He recognizes that we cannot permanently maintain American troops on the continent of Asia."

Sen. Taft did not say specifically he agreed with Gen. Eisenhower. He used the statement to point up what he considers to be the positive approach by Eisenhower and the negative position of Gov. Stevenson. He continued:

"More than that, the great difference between Mr. Stevenson and Gen. Eisenhower is that the Republican candidate promises to clean out the State Department."

Purge Promised

"On June 13 he said he would clean out the top personnel of the State Department which was all from the Democratic party. He said 'we need a new administration and I mean new in all its parts.'"

"Mr. Stevenson has always been a close friend of Secretary Acheson. His election means a continuation of the wavering, unstable, pro-Communist philosophy that has almost brought this country to destruction."

He said the nation's foreign policy had not been bipartisan since the 1948 election won by President Truman, for responsible Republicans were not consulted after that time.

Sen. Taft accused the President and his advisers of lacking foresight into Communist intentions.

"Any schoolboy who has taken history could see that the Russians were aiming at world domination," said Taft.

Belgium Inaugurates 60 Million Dollar Central Rail Station

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Belgium's young King Baudouin today inaugurates a new 60 million dollar Central Station and railroad junction in the heart of Brussels—a project started 16 years ago.

The still unfinished development includes tunnels under the heart of the city connecting the north-south and east-west branches of the Belgian railway system.

The new Central Station is equipped with baths and other ultra-modern conveniences for travelers. Its entrances have no doors—the interior is protected from outside weather by air curtains which blow across the passageways.
